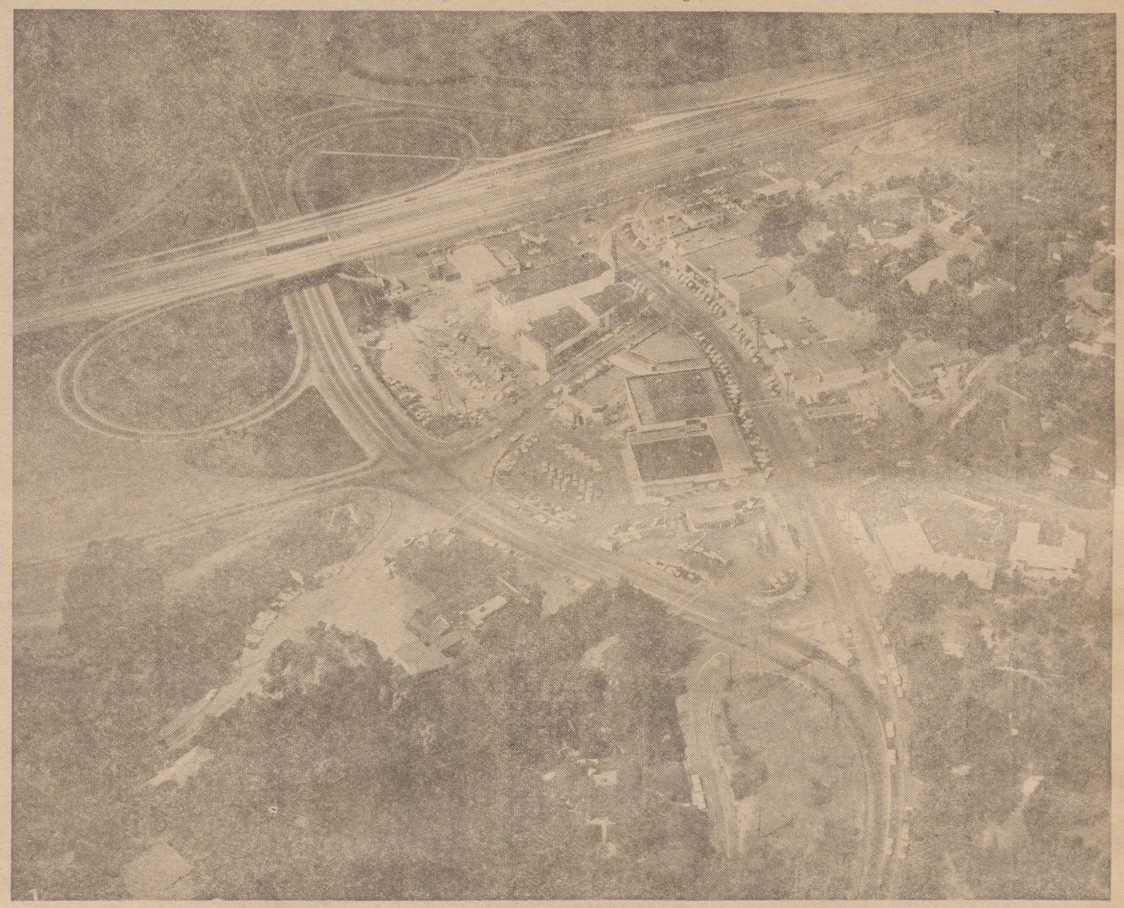
Orinda Open House: Today and Tomorrow

ORINDA'S VILLAGE is a growing place as this aerial view by Fred Anthon points out graphically. This picture was taken at 1000 feet as the aircraft circled over the Orinda Interchange. To the lower left is the new Orinda parking lot and cul de sac which was caused by the building of the Orinda Village Bypass, located in the center of the photo.— Copyrighted photograph by Anthon Commercial Photography.



HERE'S THE HEART of Orinda from 1200 feet above. The aerial photograph was taken with a Graphlex K-20 camera by Fred Anthon, commercial photographer, especially for The Sun in honor of Orinda Open House celebration. The picture was taken from south west to north east showing the interchange, and leading approaches to and from the Orinda area. — Copyrighted photograph by Anthon's Commercial Photography.

Here's What to See and Do!

Gifts ranging from ice cream cones to a $50 savings account and a tour of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company's central office will be included in the community-wide Orinda Open House Friday evening, 6:30 to 9:30, and Saturday all day.

JUST HOW direct distance dialing equipment works will be one of the mysteries demonstrated when guided tours are provided through the maze of equipment in the telephone building, one of the few times the public has been permitted to see such a system in operation.

It will be easy for visitors to get from the telephone building to displays in other parts of the area, Baer pointed out, because free bus service will be provided Friday evening from the Village to the Village Shopping Center, P. T. & T. Building and the Crossroads.

SCHEDULED FRIDAY night at the Crossroads is a concert by the Pine Grove Orchestra.

Some of the features of demonstrations and displays by firms:

The Army will show and explain the operations of a Nike missile.

At Station No. 1 the Fire Department will demonstrate the use of resuscitator equipment.

A Terrier Missile will be shown by the Port Chicago Naval Base.

James Lucas has arranged for a display by architects in the area.

Central Valley National Bank will give candy, cigarettes and cigars to guests, and conduct a free drawing in which prizes will be savings accounts. First prize will be $50, the second $25, the third $15, and there will be 12 for $1 each for youngsters under 12.

THE ORINDA SUN will be represented by a printing and news paper exhibit.

A demonstration of shoe repairing will be given by the Village Shoe Shop. Women will be given free heels, and there will be gifts of popguns for youngsters.

Tommy Horton Cleaners will demonstrate cleaning and pressing equipment.

Ogden's will present a fashion show and conduct free drawings for sweaters.

FREE ICE CREAM cones will be provided by Polka Dot Restaurant.

Worden's Travel Agency will present a travel show.

Moraga Valley Nursery will give demonstrations on methods of planting and plant care, and repot plants free of charge.

Sprouse-Reitz will give away "do-it-yourself" Christmas decorations and serve refreshments.

A hair-styling show will be put on by Country Club Beauty Studio.

Orinda Pharmacy will put on display a pharmaceutical exhibit, and Friday night give perfume to women, toys to children.

Free gifts for children will also be given by the Pixie Shop.

Coffee will be served to visitors without charge at Wright's Village Pharmacy.

There will be free candy for youngsters at Heaven to Eleven Friday evening, and clothes for children between 7 and 8 will be modeled.

"Fun" Tops Orinda Festivities!

Tonight's the time to get out of the house and have fun—and maybe learn a little, too—right here in Orinda.

At 6:30 p.m. the curtain will go up on the Orinda Open House, with local merchants joining in welcoming local residents to show them not only what a friendly place Orinda is, but the inner workings of the town's business life.

MOST STORES will continue the Open House all day tomorrow.

There will be gifts and refreshments—free of charge, of course—at many business places, and even free bus service so that you can park your car and more easily get from place to place.

"The idea of holding an Open House began when we realized that many Orindans don't realize how big our business community is, and how many different kinds of services are offered here," said Al Baer, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Merchants Committee in charge of the celebration.

"PUBLIC UTILITIES, the Army and the Navy —everyone joined in once plans got under way."

Gifts range from free ice cream cones to a $50 savings account. There's even a free baby-sitting service offered.

On display will be the Army's Nike missile, and the Navy's Terrier.

THERE WILL BE music, of course, as the Open House begins Friday night. The concert will be provided by the Pine Grove School Orchestra. The orchestra will be at the parking lot beside Black's Market.

Just how direct distance dialing equipment works will be shown during guided tours of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph's new building.

The Fire Department, too, will join in demonstrations, showing how the rescuscitator saves lives. This part of the show, under the direction of Fire Marshal William Koch, will be at the main fire station.

This edition of The Sun tells you where to go during the Open House and how to get there.

Come On Out to the Fire House!

Pine Grove Orchestra To Play Here Friday Night

Music will "swell the breeze" at the Orinda Open House, for what's a celebration without music?

Beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the parking lot next to Black's Market, the 60-piece Pine Grove School orchestra, made up of seventh and eighth graders and directed by Gerald Meeder, will appear in its first public performance of the season.

Army To Display Missile From Local Installation

High on San Pablo Ridge above Orinda Nike-Ajax points skyward, ready each instant to pursue and destroy any enemy plane that may appear.

Like other missiles at Army installations that ring the Bay, the mighty weapon is there to protect all of us.

A Nike just like those at the San Pablo Ridge installation, complete in all respects except that it's inert, will be on display in front of Wright's Village Pharmacy during the Orinda Open House.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM B. CHICK, commanding officer of C Battery, Fourth Missile Battalion, Nike-Ajax C, 67th Artillery, has arranged for members of the battery manning the installation to be at the Nike exhibit to answer questions about it.

Captain Chick explained that three radars are used in operation of the Nike. One finds the target, and a second radar tracks the target. A third follows the missile itself, giving it the command as to when to intercept the target and explode.

THIS SEEMING MAGIC is performed with the aid of a computer, Captain Chick added, which analyzes the information sent by the tracking radar.

A Nike-Ajax is valued at $20,000, but how many of them there are at the San Pablo Ridge installation, and how many such installations there are in this area is classified information.

The Nike-Ajax site is open to the public from 9 to 11 a.m. Saturdays, Captain Chick said. He suggested that visitors telephone BE 3-9100, Extension 45 in advance to be sure a tour of the site will take place at that time.

Orinda is a fine place to live. Support your community and your neighbors. Visit them at the Orinda Open House and see how they serve you.

Firemen To Demonstrate Resuscitator Tomorrow

As Fire Marshal William Koch puts it, "Who knows exactly when we've saved a life? The most we can say in any one case is that the victim didn't die."

But he and other Orinda firemen know that many accident victims would have died without the resuscitator equipment now on hand at all three Orinda stations.

Just how this equipment works will be demonstrated during the Orinda Open House Friday night and Saturday at the main fire station.

Until a few months ago Orinda had just one resuscitator.

Then the Orinda Women's Club started to hold neighborhood coffees to raise funds for another resuscitator.

"They were amazingly successful," Koch said.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce contributed, and soon the Fire Department had two new resuscitators.

Then the Rotary Club gave funds for up-to-date first aid kits at each station.

"Today we are as well-equipped to care for accident victims as any department I know of," Koch said.

The resuscitators are used to revive victims of near-drownings, carbon monoxide poisoning, asphyxia, electric shock, heart attacks, and asthma.

First aid calls, Koch said, usually number from one to three a week.

"There's not another town in the county where cooperation between doctors and the fire department is better than in Orinda," Kock said.

Boosters Club To Hold Dinner

The Miramonte High School Boosters Club, made up of boys who attend Miramonte and their fathers, will meet for dinner at the school at 6 p.m. October 10 after the game with Livermore.

Dr. David Hilger, club president, urged that every father and son make arrangements to attend.

Progressing... with Orinda—

During the past few years Orinda has progressed steadily. During the past year the tempo of progress has increased and is now more evident to us all.

There is no finer place to live than in the Orinda Area. That Orindans may be better acquainted with each other, the various businesses and services are holding this Orinda Open House. While we cannot share in the Open House, because our type of business does not lend itself to such an occasion, we, as loyal Orindans hope that you will visit your business neighbors, for Orinda is a GOOD PLACE TO LIVE . . . AND A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE.

It has been our pleasure to serve Orinda residents and Orinda businesses during the past years, by helping to keep Orinda clean, by the disposal of garbage and miscellaneous refuse. Our service shall continue to improve to keep pace with the Progress of Orinda.

Elephant-Killing Guns To Be Shown At Orinda Stores

On display in several stores during the Orinda Open House will be some of the world's most powerful rifles, the big guns—most of them double barreled—used to hunt African big game.

They are part of the collection of Maynard Buehler of Orinda, manufacturer of telescope sight mounts, safetys, bolt bending blocks, and special gun screws.

ALL THE GUNS to be shown are the kind used by elephant hunters.

One, the 10 bore double Holland and Holland rifle, shoots a 3¼ inch shell, weighs 17½ pounds, and, as Buehler notes in a brochure describing his collection, is three-quarters of a pound heavier when both barrels are loaded!

Another old timer for shooting big game is an 8-bore double rifle made by W. W. Greener, one of the largest rifles ever made. It shoots a 1250 gram lead bullet, and has a recoil of 162 foot pounds.

Rifles like these have been shown at such gatherings as that of National Rifle Association, but seldom have been put on public display.

BUEHLER'S interest in rifles began when he was a youngster in Massachusetts, and began shooting a .22 at the age of six.

While attending high school he worked for an Oakland gunsmith, and later, with his own lathe, made reloading tools, and remodeled military rifles.

In 1939 Buehler went to work at the Alameda Naval Air Station as a toolmaker and tool engineer.

He became interested in optical sights. In order to put one on a rifle, it was necessary to lower the gun's safety. He found a market for the safety he'd devised, and began its manufacture.

Later Buehler developed telescope sight mounts. Today the equipment he manufactures is sold by more than 4,000 dealers.

Al Baer, chairman of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce merchants division, said guns from Buehler's collection will be on display at the Polka Dot Restaurant, the Country Club Barber Shop, Sprouse-Reitz, Ogden's, Lawler's Paint Store, and the Village Shoe Shop.

Post Office Tour Included in Show

How the mail is handled will be shown Friday night at the Post Office during the Orinda Open House.

While small groups have been admitted to the workroom floor of the Orinda Post Office occasionally in the past, Mrs. Laura Mallary, postmaster, said that this will be the first time guided tours have been provided for the public.

Postal workers will show how mail is sorted and routed, demonstrate the canceling machine, and the new automatic tying equipment that wraps mail into bundles.

While people wait to be taken through the workroom, Mrs. Mallary said, they'll be able to watch two moving pictures in the lobby. The pictures are "The Story of the U. S. Mail," which shows modern methods of speeding the mail, and "Your Defense," a picture showing American military protection.

PG&E to Show Atomic Plant Model at Big 'Open House'

Pacific Gas and Electric Company, proud of the fact that it powers "America's first all privately financed nuclear electric plant operating under an AEC power reaction licence," will display a model of the plant, located in Livermore, and show a film, next Friday and Saturday, during the Orinda Open House.

The display and movie will be seen by the public in the parking lot just to the east of Ogden's Department Store, 2100 Orinda Highway.

Seth Steiner, PG&E Lafayette manager, said the model will be enclosed in glass, and will be of large enough scale for spectators to see many details of the Atomic plant's operation.

PG&E provides the power for the plant, and General Electric powers the nuclear reactioner, he said.

PG&E is also planning to build a 60,000 kilowatt atomic power plant near Eureka, he added.

The movie will be titled, "License No. 1" referring to the fact that Livermore has the Atomic Energy Commissions first license for a plant of that type.

The movie will run continuously.

Phone Company's Orinda Office Will Be Toured

Orinda's Open House will be observed at the new Orinda Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company office with demonstration of equipment in the parking lot, and tours of the building itself, including the long distance direct dialing equipment.

Howard Greenhalgh, district manager, said that the public is invited to the office located opposite Pine Grove School next Friday evening from 6:30 to 9:30, and the following Saturday, from 9:30 to 5:30.

A number of school children will be allowed to tour the plant during the day, next Friday.

A large number of exhibits will be shown in the parking lot behind the building, on both days. They will be demonstration type exhibits, such as a solar battery and its operation, a mirror - phone which allows the speaker to hear his own voice played back, and several oscilloscopes, which transfer the human voice visably to an electric current.

There will be a number of color displays.

The tour inside the plant will include demonstrations of operators dialing directly weather stations or other such establishments in New York and Washington, D. C.

The "electronic brain" equipment will be seen, and explained by the tour guides.

'Wishing Wells' Meant Only For Light Trash

Two years ago the Orinda Garden Club, as a civic project, designed and had built a number of "wishing wells" to be used as litter containers at the five grade schools, the Village and at the Crossroads.

These unique containers were to encourage children and adults alike to keep litter off the streets in a "wish to keep Orinda clean."

"We have felt that they have served a good purpose when people put candy wrappers, paper sacks and litter that would ordinarily go onto sidewalks into these containers," said Mrs. Roger Stark, club president. "However now it seems that a few people are taking advantage of a good thing.

"Not only are they using them for small litter, but they are filling them to the brim with large cartons and stacks of old magazines—literally overflowing these containers with trash rather than burning it in an incinerator or paying for public disposal service.

"These wishing wells are emptied on a voluntary basis by one of our civic minded residents, once a week," Mrs. Stark pointed out. "Is it fair to expect him to dispose of your trash from shop or home? Don't we all have a trash burner, or pay to have disposal service to take care of garden clippings, old papers, magazines, and such trash?"

The art and science of architecture as practiced by Orinda architects will go on display at Orinda's Open House, opening at 6:30 p.m. Friday night and continuing through Saturday.

Drawings and photographs of their work will constitute the show to be on view in the plaza between the Central Valley National Bank and Downs' Interiors on Moraga Way.

To be shown on easels in the plaza will be representations of structures designed by James Rector Lucas, David Coleman, Robert L. Klemmedson, and Wayne Littlejohn.

Both work completed and that now in the design stage, ranging from residences to industrial plants, and covering a wide area geographically, will be shown to the public.

Crew Truck Is EBMUD Display

When an East Bay Municipal Utility District water line breaks, it calls for action in a hurry.

On display at the Orinda Open House will be one of the new main line crew trucks, built to carry a crew of five or six trouble shooters, and assigned to this zone.

The crew truck will be stationed in front of the Orinda Pharmacy Friday night and Saturday, with EBMUD representatives present to explain how the utility maintains service.

The truck will be completely equipped, said Arthur Ames of EBMUD's customer relations department, with tubing, gaskets, pipe fittings, Dresser couplings, and a compressor for running pneumatic equipment.

P. G. and E. "atomic men" are developing a vast new source of electricity

Electricity from the atom is vital work at P. G. and E. We began seeking economical ways to make A-electricity 7 years ago, and soon joined Nuclear Power Group to help build the major Dresden Atomic Station at Chicago.

Last year, with General Electric, we built the Vallecitos A-plant near Pleasanton where all-privately-financed A-power first was made. Now we plan a larger plant at Eureka to produce the first economically competitive atomic power.

From the start, P. G. and E. has been a leader in atomic-electric development. Our pioneering is hastening fulfillment of nuclear energy's certain promise—limitless fuel for future generations.

See a model of the world famous Vallecitos Atomic Plant . . . on display here in Orinda (in the parking lot next to Ogden's Dept. Store), October 3 and 4 between 9:30 a.m., and 5:30 p.m. A color movie, "License No. 1" telling how electricity is made from the atom, will also be shown continuously from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. on October 3.

Commuters! You'll Have To Slow(?) to 35 MPH

Theoretically, you will be slowing down, but in all probability you'll be going as fast as you usually do.

If that sounds like a contradiction, it is only because the ways of drivers and construction workers are as complicated as they are.

Recently new speed limit signs were posted between the end of the Lafayette Bypass and the Orinda interchange. What was formerly a 45-mile-per-hour speed zone is now a 35 mile-per-hour speed zone.

Many commuters, who find themselves creeping along at an agonizing pace during rush hours have had time to notice the signs and have offered complaints (see letters to the editor department, editorial page).

THE MAJOR question seems to be, "Why can't the 45-mile-per-hour speed limit be reinstated during commuter rush hours?"

According to L. A. Weymouth, district engineer for the State Division of Highways, "It is a little hard to get people used to one speed limit one hour and another the next."

And Sergeant Albert McGee of the California Highway Patrol, "it would provide an impossible enforcement problem."

The change in speed limit occurred when construction started on the Lafayette-Orinda link of the Mt. Diablo Boulevard freeway, although signs weren't posted until late last week.

These changes in speed limits always occur with construction programs, explained Weymouth, and they are established by statute.

"IF THE COMMUTERS can move at 35 miles-per-hour along that stretch during the commute rush, I'd be surprised," Weymouth said. "It seems to me if they could move steadily at 35 miles-per-hour there they'd be pretty happy.

"Of course, you had a congestion there before you know. That's why this construction was so necessary.

"Another thing we've found . . . when construction starts, congestion happens because people stop and stare. That is probably a contributing cause," Weymouth added.

So, commuters, it looks as if you are going to be stuck with a 35 mile-per-hour speed limit until construction is completed, which is estimated to be January 1, 1960.

Oh, yes, and a final word from the California Highway Patrol. "We don't set the speed limits, we just enforce them."

All-Time High Registration Recorded for Nov. Vote

Contra Costa County has an all-time record of registered voters for the November 4 general elections, according to Walter Paasch, county clerk.

Some 180,410 persons will be eligible to vote. This figure is up some 11,000 from the 164,704 registered for the June 3 primary elections and a jump of over 9000 for the previous record of 170,000 in the 1956 general elections, Paasch said.

REGISTRATION in the two major parties showed that the democrats increased their lead over the republicans from 59 per cent in the primaries to 62 per cent.

The republicans now hold a little less than 38 per cent of the total registration for the two parties.

There are 109,338 democrats and 66,969 republicans in the county, according to the county clerk's figures.

Other countywide registration categories were reported by Paasch as follows:

Prohibition, 19; Socialist, 15; Progressive, 4; Socialist Labor, 9; Constitution, 27; Independent Progressives, 21, decline to state 3,981.

Of the 109,611 registered voters in the 10th Assembly District, 59,272 are Democrats and 47,797 are Republicans.

In the 11th Assembly District, 50,066 of the 70,799 registered voters are Democrats and 19,199 are Republicans.

THE COUNTY'S five supervisorial districts showed all except District 2 to be preponderantly Democratic in registration. The breakdown is as follows:

District 1 (Richmond)—Republicans, 21,770; Democrats, 51,386.

District 2 (Lafayette - Orinda - Crockett) — Republicans, 15,782; Democrats, 8,067.

District 3 (Concord - Walnut Creek - Pleasant Hill)—Republicans, 23,243; Democrats, 29,709.

District 4 (Pittsburg)—Republicans, 2,269; Democrats, 10,897.

District 5 (Brentwood-Byron)—Republicans, 3,532; Democrats, 9,279.

The Sun, Women Voters to Hold Candidates' Night

The Sun and the League of Women Voters have teamed up to present a candidate's night October 29 at 8 p.m. at Acalanes High where you will be able to hear the last word from the horse's mouth, so to speak.

Present will be candidates for sheriff, county school superintendent, 10th assembly district, sixth congressional district and judge of the Walnut Creek Judicial District.

HOW CAN ONE decide intelligently how to vote when the issues fly thick and fast? Who will make the best representative in Congress . . . the best assemblyman?

One sure way to find out is to attend the candidates' night and hear the political hopefuls speak for themselves.

A timekeeper from the Mt. Diablo Toastmasters Club with a fast hand on the buzzer will be present to see that no candidate exceeds his alloted 10 minutes at the microphone.

In addition to speaking time, each candidate will be allowed rebuttal time after his opponent has spoken.

A QUESTION and answer period will be held when written questions from the audience will be accepted.

Since this candidates' night will be held just preceding the November 4 elections, this will, in all probability, be your last chance to meet the candidates personally.

Why not plan to make it a family affair?

Doctor's Office Is Ransacked

The professional offices of Dr. Robert McEligot, 7 Northwood Drive, Orinda, were ransacked by a burglar Monday, according to a Contra Costa County Sheriff's report.

Missing was $10 in cash from a petty cash box, the report stated.

Dr. McEligot told investigating Sheriff's Deputies that entry had been made after a bathroom window had been smashed.

Footprints were discovered near the building by Sheriff's Deputies and fingerprints are being checked, the report concluded.

Orinda-Lafayette Link In Freeway Is 'On Schedule'

Work on the Orinda-Lafayette portion of the freeway is "on schedule," according to James Collins, resident engineer for the State Division of Highways.

He pointed out that at no time will people living on each side of Mt. Diablo Boulevard be barred from access to and from the highway.

No shifts of traffic will be necessary, Collins said, until about March 1, when some automobiles will be directed onto north freeway lanes and north frontage roads, to be constructed.

TRAFFIC EQUIPMENT hauling dirt is now crossing at Acalanes Road, Collins added, and cars are being flagged at that point.

But he pointed out, traffic will not be flagged between the peak hours of 6 to 8:30 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m. Next week, Collins warned motorists, equipment will be crossing the highway at Acalanes Road until 10 p.m.

The $3,662,946 contract for the 2.1 miles of six-lane freeway between a point 2.1 miles east of Orinda Road and .8 miles east of Sunnybrook Drive is held by Gordon H. Ball and Ball & Sampson. Work began August 6.

COLLINS SAID work is now 15 per cent complete, "including the drainage work that doesn't show."

He pointed out that the job has progressed rapidly so far because of good weather, and that so far there have been no working days missed.

But even allowing for winter weather, he estimated that the freeway will be completed by January 1, 1960.

Baumgartner Battery Case Set For Oct. 30

An Orinda barbecue Saturday erupted into a hair-pulling contest between Mrs. Lillian Baumgartner of 15 Van Tassel Lane. and Mrs. Helen DuVal of 49 Monte Vista Avenue—and resulted in a battery complaint signed by Mrs. Baumgartner aganist Mrs. DuVal's husband, a Navy Commander assigned to Treasure Island.

Judge Clifford Thomson of the Walnut Creek Judicial Court said that an appearance date has been set for October 30. At that time. Cmdr. Harold DuVal will appear and offer his plea to charges that he struck Mrs. Baumgartner, blackening her eyes and breaking her nose.

The incident occurred in the latter stages of an Orinda Lions Club barbecue held at the James Lucas ranch home.

Officers were told by DuVal that Mrs. Baumgartner, 36, the wife of Robert Baumgartner, and Mrs. DuVal became involved in an argument when the DuVals had decided to leave, and the two women wrestled frantically at the parking area roadside.

DuVal said that he entered the conflict only to defend his wife, who, he said, has an asthmatic and heart condition. He added that the most he did was "backhand" the other woman.

Although the complaint had been filed and date for appearance in court set, Robert Baumgartner said later that he would ask that the service of the warrant be held up.

The sheriff's officers also reported that Baumgartner had been quarreling with his wife before the hairpulling began.

Nominees Sought For Association

Nominations for the Orinda Association Board of Directors will be made at a meeting of the Civic Affairs Committee on the evening of October 20 in Orinda Union School.

Vic Kingston, committee chairman, said that directors to be replaced include Art Flint, Dr. Ralph Hall, Fred Twining, and Norman Cunningham.

The next issue of The Sun will carry a map showing the location of districts to be represented by new directors.

Taylor To Speak On Transit Plan

Members of the Monte Vista Improvement Association will hear George M. Taylor, administrative officer of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District, speak on "A Transit Acquisition and Development Program for the East Bay" at an 8 p.m. meeting October 7 at the home of Lloyd Rasmussen, 23 Charles Hill Road, Orinda.

TRAFFIC ON MT. Diablo Boulevard was tied up when this Simca and Cadillac decided to fight it out. Nobody came out winners and the driver of the Simca suffered a broken leg. Occupants of the Cadillac were not injured.

Orinda Sun To Display 'Art' at Show

The front page of The Orinda Sun, printers' equipment, advertisements, camera equipment and a multitude of "tools of the trade" which go into the creation of a newspaper will be on display during the Orinda Open House tonight and tomorrow.

Location of the Orinda Sun display will be the Grubb real estate office next to the Ground Cow Restaurant, according to Herman Silverman, editor and publisher of The Sun.

A STEP BY step demonstration of how a few notes become the finished story on the front page of the newspaper will be explained to visitors during the Open House celebration by the staff of The Orinda Sun.

Other demonstrations will explain how a few ideas of advertising personnel bring about the colorful full-page layouts of the complete advertisement.

Another object of interest will be the "morgue" of The Sun. This includes bound volumes of The Sun dating back some 10 years.

ALSO ON DISPLAY will be engravings made from pictures taken by Sun Staff Cameramen. The process by which these pictures are turned into metal for printing will be explained by editorial personnel.

Advertising personnel will explain layout, pasteups, matrixing and other processes used in that department.

Cub Scout Pack Plans Meeting

The first fall meeting of Orinda Pack 52, Cub Scouts, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, October 14, in the all-purpose room of Miramonte School.

Orinda Driver, Hurt, Saved By Olympic Miler

Although pinned under her late model automobile for more than a half hour Wednesday morning, Mrs. Doris Scott, a 36-year-old Orinda widow escaped without serious injury, thanks to the fast footwork of Don Bowden, the University of California's famed four-minute miler.

Bowden got a chance to use his legs at about 9 a.m. that morning when he heard sharp cries as he was jogging along Grizzley Peak Boulevard in the Tilden Regional Park.

Rescuers later learned that Mrs. Scott had been late for work as secretary in an El Cerrito shopping center, and had not been able to negotiate a curve. Her car crashed through the brush, careened wildly down a 150-foot slope.

Mrs. Scott was thrown out, and fell under the car as it came to rest, partly on a eucalyptus tree and partly on her legs.

Bowden, who had competed as a member of the U. S. Olympic Team at Melbourne, ran about a mile to the nearest telephone. The Oakland Fire Department responded and Battalion Chief John Byrne directed winch operations which lifted the car.

Mrs. Scott was taken to the Herrick Memorial Hospital, Berkeley, where doctors said that by a "miracle" no bones were broken.

Mrs. Scott is a resident of 6 Camino Del Ciello, Orinda, and the widow of the late Homer W. Scott. She has three children, Terry, 13, Russell, 10, and Shelley, 5.

Licenses Won

H. R. Petersen and Rollo S. Wheeler, both of Orinda, are among 31 Bay Area residents who will receive licenses to practice architecture in California from the California State Board of Architectural Examiners.

El Toyanal Intersection Low on List for Signals

Traffic conditions at the intersection of El Toyanal and Camino Pablo (the new bypass) do not at present justify the erection of traffic signals, according to a report made by Mark L. Kermit, county traffic engineer, to Victor W. Sauer, director of public works.

On a priority list for erection of signals, based on hazard and traffic volume, for 14 major intersections in the county, El Toyanal and Camino Pablo rate as No. 12, Kermit pointed out.

Another Orinda intersection, the one at Camino Pablo and Brookwood, is No. 2 on the priority list.

"HOWEVER, it should be pointed out that funds have been budgeted for this current year for the installation of traffic signals at only one intersection, the one with the No. 1 priority," Kermit said.

The No. 1 priority was given to the San Pablo Dam Road and Appian Way intersection.

More than 500 persons recently signed a petition requesting the, installation of signals at the El Toyanal-Bypass crossing to protect pedestrians, and the Chamber of Commerce has asked for traffic control signals at Brookwood Road and Camino Pablo.

"IN DETERMINING traffic signal warrants, we follow the procedure outlined in the State Division of Highways Planning Manual, and use the same national criteria followed by all authorities charged with responsibility of installing signals," Kermit said.

"The warrant takes into consideration traffic volumes on the various approaches to an intersection, the existence or absence of adequate natural gaps in the stream of traffic, the speed of traffic, the number of pedestrians crossing the intersection, the number of accidents susceptible to correction by a traffic control signal, and various other related factors."

Kermit pointed out that "a traffic signal is not a panacea for all problems." In some instances, he said, installation of a traffic signal will increase the number of accidents.

HE EXPLAINED that conduit for traffic signals was installed at three intersections of the new Orinda Bypass, at El Toyanal, Santa Maria Way, and Camino Sobrante, to "obviate the necessity of disturbing this road when signals become necessary at some future date.

"It should be emphasized," Kermit said, "that no one wants to see accidents happening. On the contrary, every foreseeable contingency is taken into consideration when planning our county roads.

"With only limited funds available, the installation of control devices must be made in accordance with the degree of need. We would be subject to just criticism if any other yardstick were used, and also if we played fast and loose with the taxpayers' money and spent it where need is not clearly demonstrated.

Parent's Club, Room Meetings Are Combined

Room meetings and the first regular Parents Club meeting for parents of Pine Grove School students will be combined, with all seventh grade meetings to be held Wednesday, October 8, at 7:30 p.m., and all eighth grade meetings to be held on Thursday, October 9, at 7:30 p.m., at the Pine Grove School in Orinda.

On both nights the parents will assemble in their students' classrooms for an hour meeting with their students' teachers, then adjourn to the Pine Grove Auditorium for a brief Parents Club meeting, followed by refreshments, according to Mrs Frank Shirey, president of the Parents Club.

Speakers at the general meeting will include Joseph Sheaff, superintendent of the Orinda School District; Ted Boyce, principal of the Pine Grove School, and Glen McNicholas, director of curriculum. They will discuss general school policy.

The seventh grade meetings on Wednesday and the eighth grade meetings on Thursday are an innovation in the Orinda School District, replacing the separate room meetings and Parents Club meetings held heretofore. A separate night for each grade was necessary because of the nine classes in the seventh grade and eight classes in the eighth grade.

The Parents Club meetings following the room meetings will be the only general meeting until February, said Mrs. Shirey.

The membership drive in the Pine Grove School is still continuing under the direction of Mrs. G. B. Ricketts, membership chairman. Ten per cent of the money collected from each class with 100 per cent membership will go to buy records for the school dances. Mrs. Ricketts urged parents to join the Parents Club by paying the $1 yearly dues. Each school in the Orinda district is conducting its own membership drive this year.

County Asks For Orinda's Attitude On Master Plan

Does Orinda want to provide for the expansion of its business and shopping areas and for multiple dwelling units?

These are among the questions to be discussed at a meeting of the Civic Affairs Committee October 20 in Orinda Union School.

Vic Kingston, committee chairman, said the meeting would be held to provide the County Planning Commission, now at work on a "Master Plan" for Orinda, with an idea of what plans this community wants made for future development.

"THE PLANNING Commission will complete its study some time after the first of the year," Kingston said. "This is the time to decide what kind of a community we want this to be, and how to provide for future growth. We hope everyone interested takes part."

Topics on which the Planning Commission seeks guidance are outlined in a letter to the committee from Thomas G. Heaton, director of planning.

"It is our feeling that your planning committee can be helpful in studying these subjects from the point of view of the community's attitude," Heaton said.

"WE HOPE the questions will lead to study and discussion which can contribute to the ultimate benefit of the plan for Orinda."

The first group of questions concern shopping and business areas and facilities. Here are some of them:

1. What use do Orindans make of Orinda's shopping facilities? This question involves the part of their purchasing power actually used in Orinda, whether there are enough kinds and qualities of stores available, and whether the shopping area answers the needs and desires of Orinda residents.

2. Are certain facilities lacking in Orinda's business development considered not only from the point of view of present, but of future needs?

3. SHOULD SHOPPING and business areas be provided to fit the shopping needs of the ultimate population, "or will the Orinda of the future be satisfied with less than sufficient facilities to serve the population."

4. Will there be a need for more nighborhood shopping centers in the Orinda area?

5. What is the basis of the objection, if any, to the expansion of shopping and business areas in Orinda?

IN THE SECOND group of questions to be discussed are those concerning multiple dwelling units:

1. Is there a present need for multiple dwelling units in Orinda?

To be discussed under this topic is whether people required to work in Orinda want to live here, and whether they should be provided with places in which they can afford to live.

2. HOW GREAT is the present need for multiple dwelling units in Orinda, and how great will the future need be?

3. Is there an element of the Orinda population who might, in future years, want to continue to live here but who will have reached the age when they will want to be free of the responsibility of maintaining private houses and grounds?

4. If there is a general community objection to multiple dwellings in Orinda what is the basis of such objection?

Marshal To Talk At Lions Dinner

Fire Marshal William Koch of the Orinda Fire Department will speak at the Lions Club dinner meeting Wednesday in Casa Orinda as a part of the local observance of Fire Prevention Week.

Koch will discuss efforts to obtain the help of school children in preventing fires through the Junior Fire Marshal program sponsored by Hartford Fire Insurance Company. Badges, award banners and bright red fire helmets are supplied through the firm's local agent, Kenneth Courtwright.

Joe Navone, general chairman, will report on the club's barbecue held at Wildwood Acres September 20. James Lucas, president, will preside.

Miramonte Semi-Finals

Principal James A. Lewis of Miramonte High School has announced that nine local students have been named semi-finalists in the 1958-59 National Merit Scholarship competition. They are: Babette Ambler, Barbara Stross, Peter Lewis, William Cline, Michael Wilmar, Maxine Anderson, Jack Doty, Barbara Sterl, Hal Chase.

The local students are among 10,000 of the highest scorers on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, the nationwide test of educational development given in over 14,000 high schools on April 29.

The semi-finalists named outscored over 479,000 classmates, and thus moved a step closer to an estimated $5 million in Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the 1958-59 program. The group of 10,000 semi-finalists is composed of the highest scorers in each state, prorated according to state population.

Red Cross To Expand Local Disaster Relief

Plans for expanding disaster relief and to coordinate local committees with those of the rapidly expanding California Disaster Office of the Civil Defense was announced today by Bob Schroder, disaster chairman of the Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross, a United Crusade Agency.

Recalling the near disastrous floods that hit many homeowners in the community in 1955 and again last April, Schroder said, "While our national organization is responsible for widespread disasters, it is still our chapter's responsibility for serving the immediate local needs and working closely with city and county officials."

"During the past five years, the National Red Cross averaged one major disaster per day. Statistics show that a total of 371 disasters annually struck our country during that period.

"The disasters included tornadoes, hurricanes, floods, earthquakes, uncontrolled fires, and so on. These required all the facilities of the Red Cross chapters and the national organization," he explained.

Schroder is a local insurance broker. He has served as disaster chairman for the past three years; has been active in the chapter for five years and a director for two years; and served as a solicitor for the United Crusade several years.

A resident of Walnut Creek for 26 years, Schroder and his wife, Frances, and two children, reside at Marshall Drive, Walnut Creek.

Assisting as co-chairman of the Disaster Service Committee is his father, Ted Schroeder, insurance broker of Walnut Creek.

The recently appointed manager of the Mt. Diablo Chapter, Karl L. Mahler, mentioned the international aspect of the Crusade beneficiary.

He remarked that last year 59 countries suffered famines that required the International Red Cross to supply food, funds, and nursing programs such as India required.

Mrs. Arthur H. Hammonds of Saranap is the chapter chairman, and Mrs. Julius Loeb of Castle Hill volunteer service chairman.

New Safeway Store Opens At Oak Park and Putnam

Safeway Stores opened its new Pleasant Hill supermarket Wednesday, according to C. O. Jensen, local district manager.

The new store, located at Oak Park and Putnam Boulevards, has been completely stocked. The crew has been trained to use the new equipment installed.

"WE ARE PROUD of this new facility as it possesses every attractive feature required in a modern food store. The residents of Pleasant Hill and the surrounding area will find the store an attractive addition to the community," Jensen stated.

The building, which is completely air-conditioned, has a total area of 16,000 square feet. The greatest portion of this huge area is devoted to the sales room.

A unique feature of the new store is the use of a sophisticated interior color scheme conceived by Neil Sampson, noted San Francisco designer. Departments will be distinguished by such shades as "Pompeian Red", "Italian Straw", "Tile Blue", and "Pine Frost Green".

The low, rounded roof line and the warm autumn beige exterior coloring were designed to make the store blend harmoniously with its surroundings. Ample off-street parking space for over 100 automobiles is provided.

THE STORE is equipped with seven high-speed checkstands which were especially designed by Safeway engineers. These checkstands provide for more speed and service to the customer.

The most important feature of the new store, Jensen reported, will be the fine crew that has been hand-picked to operate it.

The store manager will be Ted Prentiss.

Prentiss started his career with Safeway in 1949 at the Walnut Creek Main Street store. In 1952, he was promoted to assistant manager of the Concord store and later served as assistant manager of the Main Street store.

In 1953, Prentiss was promoted to his present position as manager of the company store in Albany.

PRENTISS RESIDES at 2982 Vessing Road, Walnut Creek with his wife, Maria, and 7 year old twin sons, Kendric and Keith.

The assistant manager of the store is Robert Kranz who resides at 154 Luella Drive, Concord, with his wife, Gloria, and two children.

Prior to his present assignment, Bob has held several supervisory jobs in Walnut Creek and Lafayette stores since starting for the company in 1952.

Meat operations of the new store will be under the supervision of Charles Alameda, an eight year veteran Safeway employee. Alameda and his wife, Mary, are long time residents in Orinda.

THE PRODUCE department manager will be Ernest Ironside. Ironside was employed in the Walnut Creek store prior to his assignment to the Pleasant Hill store. He and his wife, Mary, are residents of Concord.

In addition to the supervisory staff, most of the employees of the new store are residents of communities in this general area, Jensen reported.

Prior to assignment to the new store, all of the new employees have been given a one week training course at the company's training school in Oakland.

THIS TRAINING has been followed up with on-the-job training at the new store for all employees. Emphasis is being given to checkstand operation and customer service.

Store operating hours will be 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily and 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Sunday.

Orchard Nursery Wins First Prize

A Fall Festival of Flowers, featuring rare and exotic blooms from the four corners of the world will be one of the highlights of Orchard Nursery's tenth annual Open House, tomorrow and Sunday in Lafayette.

These flowers will be flown into Orchard Nursery especially for this event. Other treats in store for flower-fanciers are an African violet show and a chrysanthemum exhibit, each featuring new and popular varieties as well as different ways to use these plants.

Ernest Wertheim, landscape consultant, will be on hand to answer questions pertaining to garden problems. The public is invited.

PTA Hears Grand Jury Panel Talk

Findings of the 1957-58 Educational Committee of the Grand Jury were summarized by several of its members at the recent meeting of the 32nd District, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, in Martinez.

Dr. Drummond J. McCunn, program chairman, introduced the chairman of the Education Committee, R. L. LeTourneau of Richmond, who presented his panel and committee members, Philip B. Williamson and J. C. McKean.

Other members of this committee are Mrs. Sigrid Salmon and W. A. Anderson.

AREAS EXPLORED by the committee include citizen activity within the county regarding public education, school boards, school personnel, building programs, quality of the educational programs of our school and evaluation of results on the children.

32nd District endorsed the Contra Costa County Family Safety Study, a two year project of the Contra Costa County Health Department.

Miss Connie Cavender, from the Health Department, was present to answer questions concerning the project. PTA units will be asked for several volunteers to assist the Health Department in survey work within their areas.

Mrs. Norman Hawkins and Mrs. John Sehring, district safety consultants, were appointed to represent 32nd District on the Board of Supervisors County School Crossing Protection Committee.

MRS. ROBERT ADAMS, president of 32nd District, was appointed to serve on the committee studying implementation of the Short-Doyl Act for Mental Health.

Mrs. Frank L. Taylor, first vice-president, was appointed to serve on the steering committee of "Food Comes First," a Contra Costa County nutrition project.

Membership chairman of the District, B. O. Wilson, spoke of the coming PTA Membership Week, October 5-11, and urged those present to act as greeters to the many new people in our continually expanding communities.

Mrs. Paul McDowell, District magazine chairman, announced that the District Magazine Conference will be held on October 6 at 11:30 in the Congregational Church in Martinez. State Magazine Chairman, Mrs. Blanche Hook, will be present to lead this luncheon conference.

MRS. N. E. ZENK of Martinez, recited a poem and a prayer at the opening of the meeting. Mrs. William R. Zenk sang a child's hymn.

Forest Routt of Martinez, Citizenship Chairman, spoke of the importance of voting at the coming November election. "How you vote is important," said Mr. Routt. "Intelligent voting can come only after sufficient study and thought."

Mrs. M. B. Young of El Cerrito, Legislative Chairman, repeated PTA's non-partisan policy. "We do not invade the privacy of the voting booth," said Mrs. Young.

"When we feel that a proposition has definite application to the safeguarding of youth, we recommend and disperse information," she added.

California Congress of Parents and Teachers has gone on record as supporting propositions 2, 3, and 13 on the coming November ballot; and opposing proposition 17.

Concerning proposition 16, Mrs Robert Adams, president, said that the State Board of Managers reaffirmed its general position of opposition to such exemptions, and took no specific action on proposition 16.

New Cub Leaders To Begin Course

The training will be held at the cafeteria from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

It is open to cubmasters, assistants, den mothers and assistants.

Acalanes Trustees Work for Safer Walks to School

In response to parent requests for a study of problems created by the curtailment of pupil bus service, Acalanes High School District trustees this week announced several moves designed to ease safety hazards, but remained pat on their earlier decision to hold transportation service to pupils who live outside a two-mile radius of their school.

THREE STEPS have been taken by trustees to make it safer to walk to school. Those steps are:

1. Trustees have asked the County Highway Department to install a pedestrian crosswalk on Pleasant Hill Road at Stanley Boulevard to allow safer student access to the Acalanes campus.

2. Trustees requested that Charles Harney Contractors inspect and alleviate all safety hazards in areas under their supervision. The company is currently installing freeway facilities in Walnut Creek and adjacent to Las Lomas High School. School officials report that Harney has promised full cooperation.

3. Board members have studied all written requests from parents concerning existing service, and taken action to "improve specific conditions where it can be done within existing two-mile policy limits."

IN RESPONSE to written parent suggestions which had been invited by the board, trustees approved additional stops on existing routes with a minimum distance of one-half mile between stops, within the framework of the present two-mile radius limit. School officials explained that this adds no extra mileage and alleviates the need for students having to retrace on foot areas between extended stops.

In specific reference to safety hazards on the south approach to Las Lomas in Walnut Creek, school officials pointed out two alternative routes for student walkers:

STUDENTS MAY approach on Tice Valley Road, Castle Hill and Meadow Roads with less traffic to the controlled crosswalk at Mt. Diablo and Lilac Drive at the entrance to Las Lomas.

Others may walk via San Miguel Drive, Blackwood Drive and Murwood Drive onto Andrea Drive and the school campus. Students in the Rudgear area may walk through Murwood School and gain access through back roads without going on the main highway.

TRUSTEES RE-EMPHASIZED their earlier stand that, "limited district finances are the sole factor behind bus curtailment," and that while they intend "to impinge on the educational program as little as can be helped, other cuts besides buses have been necessary."

"One less teacher has been hired at each school, affecting classroom standards; cafeteria prices have been hiked to keep lunches self-sustaining; teacher and other employees salary increases have been turned down to keep costs within stringent budget limits."

In other action, trustees approved the resignation of Miss Dorothy Manes, Las Lomas English teacher, and the appointment of Marilyn Hapgood in her stead; heard a report from Las Lomas English teachers Joseph Anthony and Burke Faraola on the school's remedial reading program and expressed satisfaction with the activity; adopted additions to the district course of study for 1958-59; employed Abbott Hanks for testing services on construction of the new district school being built in Tice Valley; accepted modifications of the heating system in the Acalanes library; stood in opposition to the November ballot's Proposition 17, which would alter the tax structure in the state and "seriously cripple an already tenuous pattern of financing public services, education in particular."

Dentists to Convene

The Alameda County, Southern Alameda County, Berkeley and Contra Costa County Dental Societies will present the fourteenth annual East Bay Dental Conference on Tuesday evening at the Hotel Claremont in Berkeley.

Dr. Bill J. Harris of Walnut Creek is president of the East Bay Dental Conference.

County Heart Group Awards Research Grant

Contrary to popular belief, arteriosclerosis (hardening of arteries) is widespread in the animal kingdom, Dr. I. L. Chaikoff of the Department of Physiology at the University of California, said at the Sixth Annual Membership meeting of the Contra Costa County Heart Association, Monday evening in Pittsburg.

Dr. Chaikoff was awarded a research grant by the local county heart group to partially support his work.

A portion of his research is directed toward discovery of an animal in which naturally occurring arteriosclerosis is comparable to that of man. The researchist told the audience that his experiments have been conducted on birds, dogs, rabbits and chickens and that the baboon has given results more similar to man than any other animal.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Little Sir Echo, How Do You Whooo?

Yates Bleuel of Sleepy Hollows Horsey Set went out to bid his horse goodnight one recent bright & moonlit nite & became imbued w/the noctural callings of an owl. For almost an hr. he carried on on a two-Whoo conversation, extremely enjoying the back & forth bucolic bantering. Next day his wife Cornelia mentioned the incident to a neighbor who said Yes, her husband had the same experience last nite, carrying on a Little Sir Echoing too w/an Owl. Well, you don't have to figure that one out! Neither did Yates & Jack Ferri, both who from now on, will be a bit wiser about whom they whoo-hoo back & forth with. Seems our local bird callers have the same funny troubles!

HIGH FINANCE . . . One litt'e Sleepy Hollow lad, put on the bus in the morning w/his 30 cents lunch money, ran it up to a 10 dollar bill which he presented to his stricken mother on arrival home. She in turn called to check w-all the other mothers. Seems her junior J. P. Morgan had swapped his 30 cents for a sawbuck from some unidentified boy. Any piggy banks short a ten spot?

SUBURBIA SIGHTEMS . . . A headturning sight from the new Freeway our Scotchman Ian Campbell Begg solemnly stepping in time to the beautiful sound of the Scotch bagpipes he was playing for Mrs. Begg in their Village backyard . . . A cream-toned T-Bird snuggled right into & up on the sidewalk nr the Pet Shop getting a ticket from a tall traffic cop & that's how bad parking places are getting . . . Do you drive around in circles, too?

ORINDA SCHOOL getting a good going over on Tues.—a De-Fleaing job of smally spray! On Tues. nite over 550 Sleey Hollow parents turning out for the 1st social meeting, a potluck supper & Sing led by Frank Isola . . . Two impeccably-attired matrons, bound for the SF bus stop, trying to adjust their stockings, their hats & lipstick and still keep up a run to make the bus on time. . . . Carol Ammen, Ethel Lazaroff & Jane Jones OUT early morn, doing their "fund drive" duties for the League of Women Voters . . . Phyllis Hartanov pouring Tea for the whole county crew late afternoon.

The Night of the Full Moon

VELLY CLEVER, those Vicarses, Earl & Jea n,who christened their new Oriental-hood home on Woodland Terrace w/a dinner party last Sat. nite. The invitations to the party bid guests to come on "The Night of the Full Moon" and several called the hostess to check the date rather than rely on their Farmer's Almanac, and whatever happened to those fascinating publications anyhow?

The etheral glow of the September moon & Japanese lanterns cast a spell over the redwood deck where cocktails, dinner & dancing took place. They skipped the Saki for more worthwhile potables, but the dinner menu, avec chopsticks, was typical of the mysterious east—Sukiyaki, rice & tea.

HONORABLE SIRS & their ChoCho-Sans, who certainly had a wonderful excuse to leave their shoes outside the door, no? were the James Simons & Bruce Stringers, both men being the contractors who built the house this year. Then there were the Hersh Mortons, Robert & Ann Grant, the Kennon Whites, Gil Arrels, all of Orinda & Dr. and Mrs. Cy Callister of Laf.

Preceding the Junior Alliance's Harvest Holiday Dance at Diablo Sat., Barbara & Harold Keenan & Jean & Robert Haa combined forces to co-host a dinner party at the former's La Campana castle. Here were George & Lynn Loshbaugh (oh, that man's accordion playing!) Jane & Dick Teeter, Mansford & Nancy Funsten, Jane & Rich Weyeneth, John & Dorothy Crooks of Pleasant Hill & the Frank Forsburgs of Berk.

THE IVY DR. domain of David & Betty Young was the scene or another summer affair when the couple entertained recently w/cocktails & buffet for more than half a hundred guests. Orindans attdg. were Frank Sylvia Jones, Ken & Lillian Rupenthal, Mac & Jean Meteer, Bob & Marge Rawson to START to mention some of those singing around the piano at which Aileen Holmgren played favorite old, new & blue songs accompand by her husband John on the sax. Dancing on the patio were Ginger & Jack Bascome, Dick & Phyllis Pahltenghi, Merril & Camille Brent, Roy & Jennie Holmes, Sue Walter, Cloena & Claude Sample.

Dick Bartle was there (sorry to hear Marge was not feeling up to a fling) as were Dr. John & Betty Boulware, Lionel & Kay Viales, Phil & Kay Reynolds, John & Connie Goldeen among those requesting numbers of the talented partygoers who incl. Betty Condon and her music-minded medic husband Tom on the guitar. THAT ADDS up to SOME party. And Music Hath Charms. In case you're rfom Buffalo, it might interest you to know that Dr. & Mrs. Herman Present & Dr. Jason Farber were also in the neighborhood for the festivities.

Hawaiian Village Right Here at Home

THERE WERE SO many highpoinnts to the Hoolaulea, Moonlight Luau given by the Women's Guild of the Community Church Fri. nite, we HARDLY know where to start . . . The John Dorr's house & garden aronsformed into a veritable Tropical Paradise. Centered on the lawn, coconut palm trees sheltering an outrigger canoe . . . 15' pineapples of painted cardboard adding a bit of modern whimsy . . . Shrubs & bushes bursting w/blooms of hibiscus, on closer inspection, crepe paper flowers by the hundreds. Against the house, climbing beanstalk-fashion, brilliant floral murals like a Gaugin painting, these designed by Char Chapple who headed the hardworking decor committee.

COCONOTES . . . Hostess Mary Dorr doing the "Blue Lei" dance to strains of authentic Hawaiian music supplied by a marvelous Marin orchestra who enjoyed themselves to the hilt. Barbara Clarke applauded for her "Lovely Hula Hands" number . . . Monkey Business & Mild Hysteria during the comical chorus routine of "The Cockeyed Mayor of Maunakakai" danced by Carl Dudley, Andy Hartanov, Elbert Wayne & Jim Davison . . . Pretty young Diane Dorr dancing the Tahitaian Drum Beat . . . Lilting Light Opera sung by Dolores Bernhard wearing a white brocade gown, a white carnation crown encircling her chignon.

SPECIAL lighting effects on the Little Grass Shack showed a silhouette of the ladies ladling punch from a huge bowl floating orchids . . . Here were Molly Blue & Dorothy Cooper serving to the Ray Meyers, Skip Hoyts, Ross & Rose Van Dyke . . . Marian Brown bringing the house down w/her Hilo Hattie Hop, her coco straw WILDLY decorated, her muu-muu, TOO, too!

Hula connoiseurs Agnes Fitzgerald, Jean Dudley, Bobbie McLaren & Barbara Wayne in graceful dance poolside while the waterballet was under way . . . Bobbie, who was born in the Hawaiian Isles, joined by Barbara Wayne for a duoing of the Pebble Dance, the "Ale Koki," which is what the dance is called, wearing a Pau-Pau costume, bamboo sticks & feathered gourds. Marian Long explaining to guest Helen Behr & other eager ears that the Portuguese brought the dance to the Isles first w/castanets and the Islanders adoped same using rocks.

ANNA MORDY & VIRLA KROTZ, both in smart MuuMuus congratulating the Athens Water Follies swimmers on their performance . . . The Del Kays, Marge Tesman, Jean Fox, the Herbert Wards & Selby Turnbulls glimpsed in the garden throng.

MORE MALAHINIS in the Melee . . . Ernest & Marilyn Haynes & party . . . The Howard Russells being introduced all around, Florence's MuuMuu one of the prettiest, the pair recent newcomers to Suburbia having bought the Harvey Lyon home. THEY in the Andrew Hartanov party for dinner. Barbara Wayne's father, Owen Pearce of Chas. Hill Rd. w/guests from town . . . HE, an orchid & rhododendron authority, donating door prizes. The J. Speyers claiming a lush lavender w/a lucky ticket.

HEADS turning heavenward to the clear moonlit sky as John Dorr, arriving home from LA, tipped the wings of his plane & buzzed the house. (This, his usual procedure, to signal Mary to put on the Steak, meaning he'll be home & hungry in 30 min. from Buchanan Field).

Gaily-dressed members of the younger set helping to serve were Tammy & Natalie Hartanov, Carol Harmon, Janice Twining . . . . Jean Watkins (the dinner menu incl. her surprise rice recipe) won an orchid corsage donated by fanciers Ed & Betty Richards who displayed their home-grown tropical plants around the pool.

Titina & Charles Van Duyne entertained w/a Victory Dinner after last Sun's. first 49-er game. Their guests, the GAME CROWD who traditionally go together every game, every season, the John Van Dynes, the Jay Meyerses, the Jack Lackeys, Dud Robonetts & Tom Gibsons.

Huge Walnut Tree In Lafayette Yard

What is believed to be the largest English Walnut tree not only in Lafayette but in Contra Costa County, stands in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Smith at 1136 Laurel Drive.

Frank Davis, local tree expert, says the tree was originally a black walnut and was grafted in seven places, in approximately 1873 when it was about five years old.

"With care the tree will live for 50 more productive years," Davis said. "It's grown so big because of exceptionally good growing conditions it's encountered."

The Smiths plan to move to South Bend, Indiana. The property is for sale by the Real Estate Service Company of Lafayette.

PTA Backs Request For Bus Stop

The executive board of Lafayette School PTA on September 25 voted to recommend to the Lafayette School Board that a bus stop in the area of Silver Springs be reinstated.

It was also requested that additional educational materials be distributed to Lafayette School children giving instruction for safety of children walking to school.

The board voted to allow the principal, Martin Tucker, to spend $465 of the Westival Disbursement Fund as he sees fit.

The Westival Disbursements Committee suggested the fund might be used for PTA symphony transportation, symphony tickets for supervising teachers, a reflector telescope, educational field trips, science equipment, film rental, and records and miniature colored art prints.

Miramonte Parents Club will start an individual as well as a couples' bridge marathon play. Participants will play once a month, at their own convenience, for eight months.

The final playoffs are scheduled for June. Proceeds from this group, as with other projects of the Parents Club, will be used for school equipment not furnished by district funds, and for scholarships.

Anyone interested in either the day or evening group may contact Marge Tesman, CL 4-3436, or sign up sheets will be available at Miramonte on the parents' "Back to School Nite" October 13.

Conference Plans Made By Church

The Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church Family Conference will be held in the scenic 425 acre Mt. Hermon Park in the Santa Cruz mountains the weekend of October 17. So far 45 families have registered.

The 45 families add up to a total of 150 men, women and children, and it is expected that by the October 5 deadline set for reservations and payment, some 50 to 60 families will have made plans to attend the annual event.

Mt. Hermon, well known as the "Christian Conference Center of the West," was founded in 1906 at the present Redwood camp. In 1921 fire destroyed the large hotel and several buildings after which the Conference Center was moved to its present site. The site is among redwoods about seven miles from Santa Cruz and the Pacific Ocean.

According to Don Truax, conference manager, the program will begin at 9 p.m. Friday, October 17, with orientation of families in preparation for Saturday and Sunday activities. Such widely known church personalities as John Turpin and Al Finley will be speakers.

Conferences are scheduled for the junior and senior high groups as well as the primary and junior groups.

Those who are interested but have not yet registered should do so immediately, said the Rev. Carl Thomas, church pastor.

Soroptimists To Hold Sale

A pre-Christmas sale of women's apparel and accessories will be held by the Lafayette-Orinda Soroptimist Club in the Marie Bennet Building at Wilkinson Lane and Fiesta Square beginning the evening of Thursday, October 16, and continuing October 17 and 18.

Articles have been donated by Elsie Peoples of the former Hill 'N Dale Store, and will be sold below cost, according to Esther Marchant, chairman of the ways and means committee, and Leah Belle Blodgett, chairman of the service committee.

All proceeds will go to the club's service fund for community projects.

Fires and Kids -- Danger! They Just Don't Mix

It is officially winter, but you'd never know it in Contra Costa County.

You can take one look around you at the golden-brown grass and realize instantly that this is the fine Indian summer we enjoy.

This weather has its advantages. It is wonderful for football games, and barbecue and swimming parties are still going full swing. September and part of October are the warmest months in our area.

But something else is with us—something that we don't want—and that is the old menace grass fire.

GRASS FIRES can happen through spontaneous combustion, or through the carelessness of an adult with a cigarette, casually flipped out of an automobile window.

The disturbing part of this story, however, is the fact that the vast majority of our grass fires have been caused by children.

This is not limited to Pleasant Hill or Walnut Creek or Lafayette or Alamo or Orinda . . . it is a universal problem, one that worries our fire departments terrifically.

Why children start fires no one knows. Some youngsters like to play with matches. Others are curious and set fire to a little clump of grass, not realizing the damage potential in this one act. Unfortunately, some are malicious.

A report from one of our fire districts last week stated that over half of the grass fires during the preceding seven day period had been set by children.

THIS IS DANGEROUS and expensive. It is expensive because our fire departments must be constantly in action, and if a residential or business fire occurs at the same time, the department is already partially engaged in fighting a fire that shouldn't have started.

It uses gasoline and equipment and time, wastefully.

The danger to homes and lives cannot be estimated. There have been many, many close calls as grass fires swept toward homes.

What can be done? We can each see that our children are aware of the problem. If the children are too young to understand the implications, they should be watched. They certainly should not be playing with matches in any case.

If they are old enough to understand, it should be made clear to them that this is not a childish prank, but an exceedingly dangerous game.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK is next week. It is a good time to consider the causes of all fires, and what you can do about them. It is also a good time to consider this special hazard—grass fires when the area is dry as tinder.

And remember — children were responsible for over half of the grass fires in one area. It could be your area, and one of your children.

Can you do something about it?

This Is Our Function . . .

National Newspaper Week, October 1 through 8, is a concentrated effort to explain the functions of a newspaper. To inform, to interpret, to entertain—this is the role of the American Press, and the role of The Sun.

Its foundation is the First Amendment's guarantee of freedom of the press.

Wars have been fought to gain and preserve our independence. So, too, is battle waged by the newspapers of our country to defend and guard the freedoms and rights of a free people.

THIS IS A never-ending fight, quiet at times, at other times loud, but always on behalf of the American people.

A newspaper informs its readers of what is going on in the world. It deals with such diverse events as the fall of a foreign government or an accident at a country crossroads. It could be that the accident is of more interest to the average reader, but what is happening around the world affects us all.

A newspaper is a service organization whose prime responsibility is always to the reader. It performs a service when corruption in government is exposed. It performs just as important a job when the reader is informed of an outstanding accomplishment of a public official.

It gives its subscribers an opportunity to voice their thoughts in its letter columns and provides accurate information upon which to form opinions.

The members of The Sun staff are all residents of our local communities, and they live and work and play in these communities just as do their friends.

We, as staff members, are as interested in the growth and development of our communities as are you, our readers. It is our job to help keep you informed, but not to tell you what to do.

The Sun is proud to serve you as individuals and as members of the community. It is our pledge that we will endeavor to make our coverage more comprehensive and informative during the coming year.

The Staff Corner

You Retire -- Then What?

BY NORMAN COLBY

The often-heard comment in our suburban area, "Oh, he's retired and is receiving $600 per month, and he's making $500 a month more working now," reflects a situation where many retired people here have perhaps found a nearly perfect solution to a problem long debated.

But, in a way, it's a rather surprising statement, considering another declaration we have all heard at one time or another—"I'm going to stick with this company, even if there are other things I'd like to do better, because they offer a good retirement plan. I'll be able to take it easy when I'm 60, while most guys I know will have to stay in the traces until they drop!"

It has turned out many times that the person who "sticks with the company" so that he can "take it easy" is the same one who finds himself working almost as hard during his retirement, drawing that extra pay check.

It's sometimes the money. You can't live as high on the hog on a retirement check. But they tell you that it's not just the money.

Which leads to the question, "What is retirement for?" Its significance as a protection against the poverty involved in prolonged illness has lessened in our society which is offering increasingly good treatment almost free of charge for the elderly who have little money.

This leaves the physically active retired person (whose numbers are growing enormously). He says he is dissatisfied with the park bench, and he is to be commended for such energy from one viewpoint.

But the hundreds of thousands like him (someday millions) are using their know-how and experience to claim jobs desperately sought by the young people who are entering their career-and-family stage of life. Will the economy always be able to keep up with this multiplication of job seekers from both ends of the age groups?

Our schools teach us that somewhere along the line man (and woman) is supposed to find one or more absorbing interests in life outside of the bread-winning skill, and these should brighten his middle years, and provide the focus of interest which will keep him "alive" in his retirement years.

Senior Citizen groups are a big help, but they help most those people who have already discovered the secret. They provide social relationships impossible in any other way. Some Senior Citizen groups, not in this area, devote themselves to the economic betterment of their kind through governmental lobbying. But this is limited to only a chosen few who have found a new way to employ their "breadwinning" skill.

Meanwhile, the world continues to turn, and the universal complaint is that not enough people take time out of the day to really do some thinking about the problems racking every end of the globe.

Not every Senior Citizen can be an Albert Sweitzer, building his hospital in the jungle while his teeth rot in his head—but the senior group is the one group that has the experience, wisdom and time to do something besides fretting, breadwinning and social climbing.

Let's Draw up Lines; Heave Baby Buggy Spokes Around

By JOYCE BARNUM

There's a lot of talk going around about drawing up lines. If these lines are violated by the opposition, someone will push a button and we'll all begin running around to try to find some place to hide.

Someone pushing a button somewhere is all that it takes to get today's complicated death-dealing weapons into action.

OUR WEAPONS used to be so simple.

We were hurling spokes from baby buggy wheels at one another back on this good old day.

Our mothers were attending a tea. In those days, members of the younger generation were gussied up and hauled protestingly to these events. No sitters for us unlucky ones!

While the ladies chatted vivaciously, we youngsters sat and stared at each other as we nibbled at cookies.

One particular such event stands out very sharply. For that was the day that I turned chicken.

IT WAS PRETTY AWFUL. For the occasion I was decked out in white. And I was the only girl there. Had I been a few years older this partciular twist of fate might have delighted me. But I was at a tender age and full of scorn for boys.

As the ladies grew more animated, our glumness increased. For we were there to be seen and not heard.

At length, the hostess who was a kindly soul, suggested that we might like to go outside to play.

We filed outside quietly. After glaring at each other for awhile and standing around in our finery, we developed into two camps as the result of an argument over some forgotten, but highly important, issue.

I HAD TWO strikes against me. I was a girl and I was wearing white. Nevertheless, I was in the foray.

A line was drawn across the middle of the yard. This was a large yard with a tree-ringed lawn in its center.

We all grabbed buggy wheel spokes and retreated into the trees. The boys climbed trees with agility and speed. Hampered by my white skirt, I darted about looking for a low branched tree in which I could perch.

As I ran, the spokes began to fly.

When I came to, surrounded by frightened boys, my white dress was blood-bespattered. A spoke had caught me behind my right ear. Our battle ended then and there.

AND MY DISGRACE knew no bounds. No sympathy was accorded my plight and I was punished for behaving so badly at a social function.

To this day, whenever anyone starts drawing up lines and choosing sides, I recall that day of my dual punishment.

And, as we veterans can tell you, even if you aren't wearing white and there are lots of trees around, its pretty hard to find a place to hide.

Even from a baby buggy wheel spoke.

I'm really chicken now. Because with today's weapons and my luck, I'd be hit fore and punished aft again before I ever got near to a shelter.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

An article in the San Francisco Chronicle on September 13 brings to focus a tendency in our country to thwart adequate discussion in regard to important decisions.

According to the article, a board of the state PTA passed a resolution reaffirming "opposition to tax exemptions" as regards Proposition 16. This is a "yes" vote on the issue.

The board added that it believed "tensions arising from discussions of Proposition 16 are based on sectarian interests," and, further, "recommends that local PTA units should not discuss the proposition beyond reporting the board's action."

Proposition 16 would reimpose taxes on the state's non-public schools, as was the case before the general election of 1952.

This is an issue, clearly, of one's belief or disbelief in the separation of church and state.

The article closed with the last paragraph of the PTA board's resolution:

"This action is based on a long history of opposition to various kinds of tax exemptions which would narrow the tax base and possibly threaten funds for public education now or in the future."

Proposition 16 is an important issue, and should have the serious consideration of all the citizens of our state so that their reasoned judgment could justify their final decisions.

RICHARD W. LELAND

SPEED LIMIT
DEAR EDITOR:

I would appreciate your investigating the necessity of establishing the speed limit of 35 miles per hour on Highway 24 between Charles Hill Road and the Orinda cut-off.

As a result of this recent restriction commuter traffic is ridiculously delayed at the peak hours, both morning and evening.

If the current construction necessitates this curtailment, perhaps the normal speed limit could still be applicable during the peak commuting hours.

This letter reflects the opinion of the writer, as well as other executives and employees of this organization.

BERNARD F. TRIMPE
The Clorox Company

FIRE DEPARTMENT
DEAR EDITOR:

Having been a resident of Lafayette for 19 years and being closely associated with the men of the Lafayette Fire Department, it was a shock to hear of the recent changes made in the administrative personnel.

Not being in a position to honestly criticize or evaluate the administration, an opinion should not be ventured—BUT—the absolute and final power of three men, the Lafayette fire commissioners, to be able to reduce men in rank with no forewarning, adequate explanation or channel of appeal, is an appalling realization.

Any commission of this nature worthy of public representation should provide specific rights for the men of the department.

It seems grossly unfair that men risking their lives serving the public should be so governed by the commissioners.

Could it be that if any reorganization is needed in the department possibly it should start with the commissioners,

Do the members of the commission have the qualifications to represent the public and the men of the department efficiently and fairly?

DAVID W. LONG

Letters to The Editor

FIRED UP
DEAR EDITOR:

The action of the Lafayette Fire Commissioners at the time of their meeting on September 16, relative to some personnel changes STINKS — (please, Mr. Editor, capitalize "STINKS", as I have done in this letter, because this is something more than just a minor smell). The commissioners, in a report that was read at the meeting state, among other things, that these changes are due to, quote "a gradual but persistent lowering of morale", unquote.

I can not help but wonder why the commissioners have never given any thought to the matter that this lowering of morale has occurred during their tenure as commissioners, and that this lowering of morale is strictly due to their own administration of the Lafayette Fire Department.

IT IS inconceivable that a group of men, regardless of their occupation, can have a high degree of morale when their superiors create the uncertainties in their minds that our present fire commissioners have brought about in the minds of the firemen.

The sole responsibility of this low morale rests strictly on the shoulders of the fire commissioners, who, through their dilatory and vaccilating actions have brought about a feeling of uncertainty in the minds of the firemen.

HOW CAN the fireman have good morale, when the commissioners lack the moral and intestinal fortitude and courage to tell a fireman why he was demoted?

It appears to me that any man is entitled to know why he was demoted, and that he doesn't have to accept this demotion merely because the little Gods who, to a great extent, govern his destiny and well being, suddenly decide through some whim or aberration, that a man should be demoted.

Actions like this are those of very small men, who apparently glory in the dictatorial powers that they have and arrive at some possible self-satisfaction of their ego in the exercise of that power that they have over hapless men, who momentarily find themselves under their control and power.

If the fire commissioners want better morale, let them show by their own actions towards the firemen, that they themselves are behind every man in the department and that they have his interests at heart, and give him some feeling of security in the future, and an honest hearing when a change is made in his rank.

I CARRY no brief for or against any man in the Lafayette Fire Department, in my estimation they are all good men, who are trying to do their utmost for the benefit of the tax payers who support them. I would enjoy saying the same thing about our commissioners.

The Lafayette Fire Department has been in turmoil for the past several years and I think it is high time that the commissioners have a look at themselves, in a sincere effort to lessen the tensions that now exist in the minds of the firemen, and give them a fair deal, otherwise, Lafayette could conceivably find itself without a fireman on duty, and this could be disastrous to all of us who live in this area.

Our firemen should be under civil service, so that they are removed from the political power of whatever commissioners happen to be in office, and would also have the right to know why they are demoted, because under civil service, specific charges would have to be made, and a fireman could then not be demoted at the mere whim of a commissioner, and perhaps, without just cause.

H. WM. WERNER

MORE FIRE
DEAR EDITOR:

Why were these men in the Fire Department demoted without explanation when they have put in years of service to build up the department?

It looks like "dirty" politics has entered the picture — in fact it sounds like a dictatorship when three men have the right to make such changes without the public's knowledge.

Look back to when the department first started and you will find the men that were demoted started with the Fire District when it was a "pup", and then it was hard to get men to serve the public. This is the thanks they get.

What do you thing this will do to the morale of the department? They figure what is the use in doing your job, you will only be demoted anyway.

Thank you for taking your time to read this letter.

Mary Doyle Unit Gives Added $1000

The Mary Doyle Unit met on September 22 at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Richardson in Diablo and voted to give $1000 to the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

It was the unit's second gift of that amount this year for the rehabilitation work of the Center.

Volunteer services of the Mary Doyle members were organized by Mrs. Alfred Sperry. Mrs. Melvin Katzer announced that work parties are being held and Christmas gifts and decorations are being made for sale at the Therapy Gift Box in Walnut Creek, to be opened November 24.

Under The Sun

For Whom Are You Going To Vote for Congress?

BY HERMAN SILVERMAN

For whom are you going to vote at the general election, which is only about four weeks away?

"Hey, boss," purred Snoopy, the office cat, "that question sounds like your column several months ago. Can'tcha think of something new?"

"You're right, Snoopy, before the primary election in June, I used the same approach. Too many people wait until the night before an election to make up their minds. I must confess that on certain races I do the same. But this is wrong. It takes a little effort, some reading, listening, studying, attending to vote intelligently.

"That's a mighty long-winded sentence, Boss," said Snoopy. "But what do you have to offer?"

Here we go again . . .

You've heard this before, Snoopy, but here goes again. Between now and Tuesday, November 4, The Sun will print news and advertisements submitted by candidates. I am primarily referring to the election for sheriff, county superintendent of schools, supervisor, district 3, Walnut Creek Judicial District, assemblyman and congressman.

The Sun will discuss these campaigns and will present its recommendation in each of the above races. On Wednesday evening, October 29, The Sun and the League of Women Voters will sponsor a Candidates' Night at the Acalanes Gym. You will be able to hear these candidates argue specific but broad questions.

So, you see, Snoopy, we will do our best to give our readers some material to work with. Now, Snoopy, out—out of the office.

The pompous editor

Now, dear reader, let me sound stuffy a minute. Before the last election, The Sun devoted literally thousands of inches to the election. This news was spread over a period of weeks, with a large amount of space devoted to it the issue before June 3.

Several friends, however, complained there wasn't enough campaign news and analysis in the edition before the election. They, of course, became intensely interested in the election only during the final week. So, this is a warning. Our election news and background, by necessity, will be offered during these five weeks before the election. We cannot pack it all into the issue of October 31.

Are you going to vote "yes" or "no" on the bond issue of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District? This is going to cost you money.

This is really a leading question, because The Sun has clearly stated its opposition to this measure and given the reasons why.

Baldwin vs. Jewel

Now for a minute, let's look at the race for congressman. Incumbent Congressman John Baldwin, Republican, is being challenged by Orindan Howard Jewel, an attorney. Democrat Jewel did not cross-file on the GOP ballot in June.

Who is going to win? You can ask most people in this Republican area and they will answer without hesitation—"Baldwin." I think it is a toss up, and anything can happen. For example, The International situation (Formosa) is pushing voters into the Democrat camp. And do not forget that District Six, Contra Costa and Solano counties, has a 61 per cent Democrat registration.

Research surveys may or may not mean anything but here is one sent out as a newsletter from Jewel's headquarters:

"Dunleavy and Associates, San Francisco research firm, has prepared an analysis of primary results . . . showing Jewel to be one of two Democrats in California with the best chance to unseat an incumbent Republican.

"Basis for his prediction, Dunleavy says, is that 1) Jewel did not cross-file and still got 45 per cent of the popular vote."

The newsletter then states Jewel can be expected to pick up at least 7 per cent of the total vote in November. "That's what (Democrat) Quinney did in 1956."

And now the republicans

The republicans, however, will probably dispute this. They say: 1) Thousands of republicans did not bother stamping X besides Baldwin's name because he was the only candidate. 2) Baldwin has very strong democratic and union support and his voting record has been liberal. 3) In the primary over 19,000 democrats voted for Baldwin (over 49,000 voting for Jewel). 4) Baldwin has a strong edge as an incumbent.

That's what they say—you're guess is as good as mine. I repeat—it's a toss up.

Jewel is young, personable, aggressive; he makes a fine appearance and is a good speaker. He has the ultra-liberal approach of a young, idealistic democrat. He is primarily concerned with national and international problems. Local problems of this congressional district are secondary to him.

A major campaign issue?

Jewel is waging a strong campaign on this issue—that Baldwin should be, but is not, concerned with the vital national and international problems facing the United States. Jewel argues that Baldwin is even noncomittal on significant questions, such as U.S. forces in Lebanon.

Certainly Jewel has a point. We want our congressman to represent the entire nation as well as our district. We want him to have definite opinions on the broad questions. This challenge is now being put directly in Baldwin's lap and he should answer it.

On the other hand, Baldwin has done a wonderful job representing this district. I cannot agree with Jewel that Baldwin should be criticized rather than praised for his 100-per cent voting record in Congress. No one works harder in Congress than Baldwin. No public official works harder in his home area than Baldwin. He is sincere, conscientious and honest. He has served two terms and is now gaining much-needed seniority. For this reason and others, I believe that Baldwin should be re-elected. We cannot change congressmen every few years.

Baldwin has done a good job—and deserves another term in Congress.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Piere De Latier before a candle lighted altar decorated with white stock and white gladioli.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Robert Fredman, chose for her wedding gown ivory satin trimmed with Florentine lace and made with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and a bouffant skirt with a train. Her veil was of ivory illusion net with a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried white orchids.

HER MAID of honor was Christine Frank of Berkeley, who wore a ballet length gown of cobalt blue brocade satin and carried gold chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids were Jan Rowley and Margaret Humphrey, both of Berkeley, who were gowned alike in old gold satin brocade ballet length gowns and also carried gold chrysanthemums.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER • YE 4-3818

"International Holiday" was the theme for the Robin's gala evening at the Meadowbrook Country Club —an evening which was a delight to all who attended. What could be more colorful than the flags of all nations —and these lined the entrance.

Huge international posters decorated the inner walls and the tables were resplendant with bottled candles, lusciously dripping, and great baskets filled with grapes and other fruits. One corner was devoted to Spain and Mexico and another featured an authentic Swiss ski hut.

Lending color to the European cafe atmosphere were the members and their husbands in costumes from many lands. The Aldo Vasconic "went" Mexican (thanks to their recent trip) and Violet and Lee Lorenzen were especially outstanding in quaint Bavarian regalia. The Lawrence Gerlachs and the Donald Miliers were "daring" in Apache costumes. Probably the busiest two there were Bob Martin and Joe Shockey, who handled the barbequing end of a delicious dinner.

The Mt. Diablo Therapy Center is forming a brand new unit from two brand new areas: Antioch and Pittsburg. Eventually these will be separated into two units. An introduction tea was held recently at Mrs. Donald Allen's home on Tiegland Road. Pouring at the beautifully decorated table were Mrs. Chester Hook and Mrs. Arch Campbell. Francis Schroeder was in charge of the affair at which Mrs. Juanita Benoy, director of the Center, spoke. On October 23 another meeting will be held at Mrs. Michael J. Gatto's home in Pittsburg at which time the actual forming will take place.

After-the-festival celebration

Hope you enjoyed the Walnut Festival as much as we did. Bill Martin and his staff should be very proud of its success. He and Helen entertained the board of directors and others connected with the festival with a large barbecued chicken dinner last Monday night. Swimming was a welcome, added attraction.

A second annual neighborhood party was held at Alice and Wayne Goodale's home in Lafayette last Saturday. This thoroughly enjoyable evening was held poolside with the dinner being strictly pot-luck. Shirley and Teller Weinmann, who were house guests of Lou and Jim King, were welcome additions to the party for she (formerly Shirley Marchant) was one of the original members of this group.

The Walnut Creek Jayceettes are busy with last minute details for their fourth annual luncheon-fashion show to be held tomorrow at El Nido Rancho. This year "Skyline Silhouette" has been chosen as the theme and all of the decor will be in black and white. Mrs. Harry Thompson will be the moderator for the newest fall fashions presented by local shops.

Billie (Mrs. Don) Campbell is general chairman and will be assisted by the Mmes. Harold Turner, Cliff Davis, Robert Richart, Fred Sanders and Robert Nagy. Mrs. Ted Merrill is the president of the Jayceetes who hold two fund raising events each year.

They're doing EVERYTHING themselves

Lafayette's St. Perpetua's Women's Guild starts a year full of activity with what promises to be one of the outstanding bridge-luncheons of the year. On Wednesday, October 15, Seven Oaks Ranch in Lafayette, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moran Sr. will open its doors to some 400 guests who will enjoy a delightful home-cooked luncheon. Yes, the ambitious St. Perpetua's ladies are preparing EVERYTHING and these ladies are real artists!

Following lunch, Sloanes will present an interesting program on home decorating ideas. Bridge and cards will follow. Mrs. Neil Moran and Mrs. Jack Rarig (nee, Ginny Moran) are co-chairmen. They are being assisted by the Mmes. T. A. McCoustland, E. G. Weiss, A. J. Arrighi, J. P. Larsen, A. D. Mercier, Thomas J. Moran Jr., and Patrick J. Nelson. Maries Weiss, AT 4-4219, is taking reservations, but call her soon for tickets are going FAST!

A terrace dance was given recently by the Concord Hospital Auxiliary at Diablo Country Club. The night was warm and lovely under the stars and the ladies were equally lovely in colorful summer frocks. Some of those attending were the Paul Gailuses, George Klines, V. J. Cuendets, A. W. Rabuns, John Kaufmans, William Floods and Charles Harts. Mrs. Hart is the group's president.

Everybody came all sacked out

Dr. and Mrs. Donald Priewe chose the same night to give a Hobo party. Their large back deck was enclosed with burlap and bonefires were burning at one end. Punch was served from a big corrugated tub and guests cooked their own hot dogs on a stick. All came in hobo costumes, with burlap sacks being the basis for most. Laurie Abbes was especially "chic" in a chemise-styled burlap trimmed, my dear, with mink!

Jacke Worden appeared in pleated burlap and Ginny Holcombe's (of same fabric) was woven in and out with red ribbon—copied from a Magnin's original. Ken Holcombe's burlap trousers were, it was noted, beautifully tailored.

Fran and Jim Seaman spent a long week-end at Cal-Neva Lodge at Tahoe—with some time spent at Reno, of course. They report a bit of luck, for a change.

Jane and Bill Brobeck will be accompanied by Jane's mother, Mrs. Bertha Knox, and sister, Mrs. G. Maynard Wadsworth, on a flying trip to New York City and Ithaca, N. Y., where, tomorrow, they will attend a wedding. The trip will continue to Quebec and the return trip will be via Portland, Maine, and Boston, Mass.

Wouldn't miss either of 'em

There are two more luncheon-fashion shows coming up which I wouldn't miss! One will be on October 8 at El Nido and has this very feminine title—"Fashions from Petticoat Lane". Obviously the costumes will be from Irene Thiess and Jo Ann's. Just can't beat those two shops for outstanding styles. The Hummingbird unit of the Therapy Center is sponsoring this venture.

The other will be on October 16 at the Castlewood Country Club and its theme is "Thru the Looking Glass". This very lovely, annual afternoon is presented by the Heidi Chapter of the Children's Home Society. Don't believe I've ever missed one and yearly have felt it a really top-notch show. Clothes will be by Saks Fifth Avenue of San Francisco.

Want to dress 200 dolls?

Two hundred dolls are being dressed for table decorations—to be combined with cleverly fashioned looking glasses. These will be sold following the show. Hope that many of you will attend these two functions—but, at any rate, this column will carry full reports.

A report, also, will be due about the Flicker's Wednesday afternoon at Diablo Country Club. SUCH a collection of art of all types has been collected for exhibition! And SUCH a trio of judges—Herb Caen, Barnaby Conrad and Benny Buffano! What do those Flicker gals have?

Have you, too, fallen under the spell of that fabulous Gay 90's-type pianist at the "Gaslight"? We know a few who have—f'r instance: the Don Campbells, Don Whites, Bill Vaughns, Bill Coffeys, Bob Bardells, Nada Miller and Jim Heenan—all delighted with his talent.

It wasn't very original—but it was fun—the hoola hoop contest that we "put our guests through" when we entertained with a dinner party in the patio of the Pleasanton Hotel Saturday night. Laurie Abbes won the prize—she ALWAYS does! The "boys" had fun with a pitch-and-putt type contest and Bill McGuire won—'tees down".

This event was a "Ways and Means" project to raise funds for the club's community service fund.

Committee members are the Mmes. Charles Alsgood, chairman; T. E. Louis, co-chairman, Vera Brooke, Lucille Whalen, George Bulger, and the Misses Patricia Smith, Ludres Silva, Ellen Strand, Goldie Manning and Sophia DeVries.

Diablo Weavers Hear Discussion About College

Twenty-five members and guests of the Diablo Weavers Guild heard a talk by Mrs. William S. Taylor of Berea, Ky., at a recent luncheon meeting in the Berkeley Savings and Loan Building in Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Taylor, who is assistant to the president at Berea College, discussed crafts at the school and showed colored slides of the campus.

An exhibit of hand-woven articles and samples of hand weaving by members of the Omaha, Nebraska, Weavers Guild was on display.

At a business meeting conducted by Marie Stengel, president, a nominating committee was appointed. Serving on this committee with Ruth Schwerin, chairman, are Emma Flaners and Alma Phillips.

The October meeting will be a tour of the Division of National Auto Fibres in Oakland. It will include inspection of commercial dyeing and the nature of synthetic fibres.

Linda Uffens Becomes Mrs. Robert M. Kelly

In one of the prettiest weddings of the early fall season, two well-known members of Diablo area's younger set became man and wife.

Linda Ann Uffens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alma H. Uffens of 25 Poco Lane, Walnut Creek, and Robert Michael Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald W. Kelly of 351 Shady Glen Road, also Walnut Creek, exchanged nuptial vows in a double-ringe ceremony September 19 at the Walnut Creek Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Large baskets of white gladioli provided altar decor for the 8 p.m. rites read by Bishop Edward Y. Wells. Before the vow exchange, Nico D. Snel accompanied soloist Evelyn Tueller at the organ for traditional wedding music.

LINDA WAS given in marriage by her father.

She wore a ballerina length gown of white Chantilly lace over satin. The bodice was fitted with iridescent sequin and seed pearl trim at the sweetheart neckline. The sleeves came to a point over the hands. Several rows of nylon marquisette ruffles extended from the back waistline to the hemline of the very bouffant skirt.

Completing the bride's ensemble were single pearl earrings and a pearl extended from a gold chain as her only jewelry, and the tiara of seed pearls which secured her shoulder length veil. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and cattleya orchids.

Attending Linda as maid of honor was her sister, Joan Alane Uffens, who wore a ballerina length embossed taffeta, fashioned with scalloped neckline, short sleeves, the bodice fitted and the skirt very full.

She wore a matching velvet headband, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

A PRETTY LITTLE flower girl was the youngest sister of the bride. Miss Cynthia Anne Uffens, whose frock was of material identical to the bridesmaid's with net overskirt and a large back bow. She wore a headband of tiny flowers which secured a short veil, and her white basket held pink and white carnations.

Lyle Jensen of Walnut Creek performed best man duties for the benedict, and seating guests were Gordon Uffens and Louis Christensen.

As she joined the bridal party to receive guests at the reception which followed in the church Fireside Room, the mother of the bride was attired in a gown of peacock blue silk crepe with front drape and large bow at the waist.

She wore a matching feather hat, and her corsage was of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Kelly selected a street length gown of ivory embossed taffeta with a large bow at the center waist with draped skirt. Her hat was of varied-hue flowers, and her corsage was of cymbidium orchids.

AFTER RECEIVING felicitations from nearly 200 guests, the justweds left for a wedding trip to Yosemite, then Los Angeles and vicinity, with the bride donning a navy blue sheath with white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet for the trip.

Both Linda and Bob attended and graduated from Walnut Creek schools and later attended East Contra Costa Junior College. Bob has just completed service with the United States Army.

Linda is employed at the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

They will make their home in Walnut Creek.

Linnets Hold Annual Lunch, Swimming Party

Volunteer workers of the Linnet Auxiliary to the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center work to keep the Thrift Shop at 1547 East Street, Walnut Creek, open all year round.

All proceeds from the shop are donated to the new therapy center to help the physically handicapped in the area.

However, these busy women set aside one day out of the year just for fun and relaxation. This year the annual luncheon and swim party was held at the home of Mrs. Arch Campbell of Alamo on September 22.

After a short business meeting, two new members, Mrs. Frederick Seulberger and Mrs. Henry Gentry were welcomed by the group. A buffet luncheon was served at the poolside by the hostess, Mrs. Arch Campbell. Mrs. Frederick Foster and Mrs. William Preuss helped with co-hostess duties.

The shop will be open as usual today, 10-4, and tomorrow, 10-2.

Of interest to those of you who want to add a new touch to your homes will be the news that many lovely pictures, as well as separate picture frames, may be had at very special prices.

Dress and shoe racks hold wonderful bargains for the thrifty shopper, and this week will have an especially good selection of shoes from which to choose.

Mrs. Alden Macomber will be chairman for today, with Mrs. Chester Hook and Mrs. Paul Nave helping. As usual the Junior Linnets will help customers tomorrow.

"THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS" is the theme of the luncheon and fashion show to be given by the Heidi Chapter of the Childrens Home Society October 16 at Castlewood Country Club. Donna Lynn Campbell To Marry David P. Helbert

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Campbell of 1291 Quandt Court, Lafayette, announced the engagement of their daughter, Donna Lynn, to David Payne Helbert of La Habra at a cocktail party for family and intimate friends. David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Payne Helbert of the Southern California town. He has one sister, Janis. They were all present at the announcement party.

Donna Lynn has lived in the Walnut Creek area for 10 years. She has been active in Job's Daughters in Danville and Rainbow Girls in Concord. She graduated from San Ramon High School in Danville in 1956 and went on to spend 1½ years at Stockton's College of the Pacific. It was there that she met her fiance.

Donna Lynn (known by her close friends as Jaimi) wore David's fraternity pin for almost two years. While she was at Pacific, she joined Epsilon Lambda Sigma sorority..

LAST FEBRUARY, she transferred to the University of California in Berkeley. At present she is employed with the university's radiation laboratory, also in Berkeley.

Dave is originally from Cleveland, Ohio. He is a graduate of North Olmstead High School near Cleveland. In 1955 he and his family moved to Southern California where they now reside.

Dave is in his senior year at College of the Pacific, and is a speech major. He plans to continue through a fifth year of studies in order to obtain his secondary teaching credential. He is a member of Rho Lambda Phi fraternity, which is celebrating its centennial in October.

DAVE HAS been active as sophomore class president and a member of the Student Senate. He has also held offices in his fraternity house.

In his first year he played basketball for Pacific. He has also participated in musical productions at school. At present, he is working full time as well as undertaking a full academic schedule.

The announcement party for the couple was held Sunday. The color theme was executed in shades of pink and silver, from pink engraved matches and napkins to pink champagne punch. The engagement was revealed by a decorative pink and white double heart arrangement bearing the names of Donna Lynn and Dave.

Prof's Picks Puissant; Crystal Ball Sees All

By SOSS APPLE

The old professor was really on the beam last week as he missed but one—when Pleasant Hill High tripped the Acalanes Dons. The big pick was College of Pacific over heavily favored Arizona.

Here goes for another look at the crystal ball which may have been a bit hazy in the opening week but has cleared up as the season progresses.

Concentration and a look deep into the crystal ball brings the following peerless picks:

PIEDMONT HOSTS El Cerrito and while the visitors will give the Highlanders a bit stiffer opposition it's still Piedmont 27-7.

Miramonte plays at Albany this afternoon. The Matadors could give the Albany Cougars trouble—the edge to Albany, however, 13-6.

Pleasant Hill has good depth and good speed. Two wins in two outings finds them making it three in a row at the expense of St. Mary's High. The score, 20-12.

LAS LOMAS shows experience and power to date as they roll up the touchdowns. They host Alhambra tonight, probably their best opposition to date. Take Las Lomas, 26-7.

Acalanes has a rough go as they play Diablo at Acalanes Memorial Field. The Diablo Devils are loaded.

The Dons best bet to date has been a stubborn defense. The dope gives the Devils the nod, 20-7.

SAN RAMON travels to Livermore rolling in high gear. They swamped Brentwood last week and figure to win again, 19-7.

In the college circles Cal puts up a noble try only to go down, 26-13.

Washington State will be in no trifling mood after being upset last week by Northwestern while Cal is too used to defeat to upset them.

Stanford is picked as the week's upset in a "believe it or not" win over Northwestern — the score, 20-0. Northwestern used up their luck last week—Stanford is overdue.

DIABLO VALLEY College hosts Santa Rosa tomorrow night at Concord. They have led in their first two games only to lose in the second half. It's a change as they go for the sweet, sweet win, 26-19.

College of the Pacific gets a bye, so they are sure to stay in the undefeated ranks for another week at least, and probably much longer than that.

The 49ers play the Rams at Kezar in San Francisco. The Rams won the exhibition, but it's the 49ers this time—the count, 28-23.

P.S. — In World Series ball Spahn to beat Ford in the opener, Milwaukee to take the series. This went to press last Tuesday.

Matadors Drop Game To Pacifica

The Miramonte Matadors, backed by a host of fans, made their varsity debut against Pacific last Friday night and while they lost, 14-0, they came up with a top defensive game that tabbed them as anything but setups.

The game, played on Pittsburg High's field, found the Matadors handicapped when first string quarterback Floyd Blaney was lost on injuries early in the contest.

BRUCE HANCOCK, filling in on short notice at the quarterback spot, did a good job and showed definite promise.

Pacifica scored on the sixth play of the game when Ivan Perkins shot over right tackle for 78 yards and a score.

Pacifica collected two more points on a safety when Darrell Lackey fell on a blocked punt in the end zone and added another touchdown in the fourth period when Bruce Smith intercepted a pass and galloped 55 yards.

Bright lights for the Matadors in the ball carrying department were Ricky Clifford, who carried 14 times for a 6.1 yard average and sophomore Bill Hilger, who toted the pigskin four times for an eleven yard average.

COACH BOB BROOKS was particularly pleased with his club's stout defensive play which gave Pacifica plenty of trouble.

Today the Matadors play Albany at Albany in a 3:30 p.m. game that could be an even-Steven affair. Albany tied Antioch last week, 13-13.

Milt Blake at center and Bob Hudson at right end are on the doubtful list as far as starters are concerned, due to assorted ailments, but are expected to be ready by game time.

Diablo Devils Favorites In Dons Games Tonight

The Acalanes Dons play host to the Diablo Red Devils tonight under the lights of Acalanes Memorial Field in an 8 p.m. game.

The game is a great traditional one with upsets the rule as the result of the keen rivalry between the two teams.

It will have to be a major upset tonight if the Dons are to win as the Devils, off their play to date, are heavy favorites.

THEY HAVE LOOKED impressive in their two games to date, waxing Tech High of Oakland, then measuring El Cerrito in a whirlwind finish, 32-0, last week.

In Gary Casey the Devils have a standout broken field runner who teamed with the speeder Al Trette, the county's top 100-yard dash man, presents plenty of defensive problems for the Dons.

THE DONS, thin in ranks and light in weight, have been surprisingly strong on defense, but have made too many crucial mistakes on offense to hit the win column. They have lost by identical 14-6 scores on successive Fridays to Alhambra of Martinez and the Pleasant Hill Rams.

Junior Halfback Bill Jenks moves into a halfback spot for the Dons in place of George Means, out with banged up ribs.

Other than McMeans, Coach Jack Carhart plans to start pretty much with his regular starters but will use substitutes liberally in order to get a look at as many hands as possible prior to next week's league opener.

Knights Steamroll To 33-7 Victory Over John Swett

The Las Lomas Knights played at Crockett last Friday afternoon and in so doing proved to be a powerhouse as they steamrolled to a 33-7 win.

The Knights took a while to get rolling in the opening quarter, which ended in a 0-0 tie.

In the second period of play Quarterback Don Hopkins set up the Knights' first touchdown with a 47-yard pass run to end Bob Gomez and fullback Clark Ransome wound up an 82-yard drive by scoring from five yards out. The conversion try missed.

JOHN SWETT threatened in the second quarter when it covered 41 yards to reach the Knights' 19 only to be stopped by the sturdy Las Lomas defense, that held the Crockett eleven inside their own 50 for most of the game.

It was 6-0 at the half but the tide really turned in the third period when the Knights rode roughshod over the Indians for 21 points.

Bob Blower set up the second touchdown by recovering a fumble on Swett's 23-yard line, and two plays later Ransome found a hole at right guard good for 18 yards and the score.

RANSOME WAS back in the act on the ensuing kickoff and he returned a fumble during the kickoff 70 yards before being pulled down by Jim Turner on the 22.

A loss on a play topped by a penalty put the Knights back to the 47 from where Hopkins let loose with an aerial which was deflected by a defensive back into the arms of Jim Sisler, who scooted for the score.

Later in the same quarter the Knights hit pay dirt again when Ken Bernhart hit for the final yard over right guard to climax a 37-yard drive. Ransome kicked all three conversions in the third quarter.

SWETT SCORED in the third quarter when halfback Don Thomas rolled 57 yards over right guard and quarterback Jim Turner split the cross bar with a place kick.

The Knights wound up the scoring with a drive that started on their own 31-yard line in the fourth quarter. Seven plays took them to the eight from where left-half Steve Moore swept end behind the key blocking of Ransome from his fullback spot.

The Knights' big feature of the game other than their 33-point scoring splurge was their sturdy offensive play, which kept John Swett bottled up in general and their ace quarterback, Jim Turner, in particular.

TURNER, rated as an offensive ace, wound up with a minus 12 yards, and although he completed 14 of 17 passes, they accounted for only 87 yards as the rushing defense kept them short — the longest going for 16 yards.

Knights Dave Weill, Bob Blower, Randy Olson, Jim Foreman and Jim Hemstalk drew comment for their defensive play.

Tonight the Knights host Alhambra High at Walnut Creek in an 8 p.m. game.

Alhambra Bulldogs, rated as a power at the beginning of the season, only sputtered to a 14-6 win over Acalanes in their opener two weeks ago but last week lost a toughie to Castro Valley, 21-19. Castro Valley is rated AA and the Bulldogs had them on the ropes as they went to the five-yard line in the closing minutes, only to have a pass intercepted.

Undefeated Rams Collide With St. Mary's Tonight

The Pleasant Hill Rams, undefeated and untied in their two outings to date, are back at it again tonight when they play St. Mary's High of Berkeley under the lights of Diablo High in an 8 p.m. game.

St. Mary's High is also in the undefeated class, having measured El Cerrito, 13-12, in the opener, and then waxing Redwood High of Kentfield, 32-12, last Friday night.

IN AL ISOLA the St. Mary's eleven is reputed to have one of the best quarterbacks in the area, and on the basis of reports, he runs a club which could be St. Mary's best in 11 years.

Ram Coach Hal Briggs, however, has a few good horses of his own and with fast backs plus a line anchored by a pair of top tackles in Mike Ryan and Walt Dathe, will give the invaders a real test.

Halfback Tom Webb proved to be a comer as he gained plenty of yardage in the Acalanes game, topping it with a 41-yard scoring run.

End Bob Stice was moved into a definite starting spot off his play last week.

ALL RAM HANDS are reported in shape and ready to go.

The Pleasant Hill Rams made history Friday night when they won over the Acalanes Dons by a 14-6 score.

It marked the second time by an identical score, as they whipped San Ramon last week 14-6.

THE DONS incidentally lost to Alhambra in their opened 14-6.

The Rams put their initial score on the board in the second quarter when they covered 41 yards in nine plays.

Roger Leonard carried the ball for 30 yards in the series going the final eight on a left end sweep with two minutes on the clock.

LEONARD THEN added the extra point on a smash over tackle.

The Dons came back early in the second half when Bob Marello took a punt off the toe of Bill Locatelli on his own 30 and after bobobling it raced 70 yards down the right side line aided by some sharp blocking to score.

Hank Carmen's attempted place kick was blocked.

Both clubs were in scoring position several times only to bog down.

A FUMBLE RECOVERED by the Don's tackle, Denny Toll, stopped a Ram drive.

The Dons went from their own 34 to the Ram 19 on a series of plays only to bog down when quarterback Mike Kirscher's pass on third down fell incomplete and he was downed for a loss by Pete Jacobsen on the next play.

Jayvees Play

Junior Varsity football results the past week found Acalanes hit-they defeated Pleasant Hill, 26-7, ting their season's best play as Miramonte lost a 6-0 game played at Pittsburg with Pacifica while Las Lomas chalked up a 25-0 win over John Swett in a game played at Walnut Creek.

Piedmont Racks Oakland; Favored Over El Cerrito

Piedmont High proved to be a powerhouse again last Friday night when they racked up Oakland High in no uncertain fashion, 53-13.

The Piedmont Highlanders scored in every quarter and with two minutes in the third quarter gone had used 36 players in the one-sided contest.

Piedmont smashed their way to a commanding 32-0 half-time lead paced by halfbacks John Griffith and Kevin Hogan. Griffith scored a pair of touchdowns in the opening quarter on 11 and 13 yard runs and wound up with a third touchdown, a 3-yard buck, in the fourth quarter.

HOGAN HIT pay dirt twice, once on a 27-yard pass from quarterback Steve Wilcox and then on a 20-yard run off tackle. Other touchdowns came on a three-yard drive by Gary Heiner, Reignels tallied from the eight, and quarterback Russ Pearson took one up the middle for 54.

The Oakland Wildcats scored twice with reserves in the game in the fourth period when quarterback Bill Raabe went over once from the three and again from the two.

Statistics wise it was Piedmont all the way as on the ground they hit for 358 yards to 98 and a grand total of 435 as opposed to 111.

END JIM TAGGERT got into the scoring act by kicking three conversions with Ned Wood scoring the other on a pass.

Tonight the Highlanders play host to the El Cerrito Gauchos and they are favored to make it three wins in a row although the invaders are expected to give them a bit more opposition than they have had to date.

Coach Bob Muenther is crying the blues with his tongue in his cheek.

Halfback Gary Heiner turned an ankle in Monday's practice session and will sit this one out. A regular halfback, he has been a standout on both offense and defense.

RUSS PIERSON, second string quarterback, has a banged up knee, so first string Steve Wilcox may be called on to go the route.

Chip Miles and Rod Church, deep secondary defensive halves, are out with sore throats and may not be ready.

Piedmont holds an edge in the backfield, average 170 to 165.

El Cerrito lost to Diablo last week, 32-20, so it could be an offensive battle, although Piedmont to date has had little trouble scoring and has been tough to score on.

Game time is 8 p.m.

Baby Rams Set Sites On 'Cows'

By JOE McFARLAND

Pleasant Hill's freshmen football team travels to Livermore Wednesday after opening their season yesterday at home against Pacifica.

The Frosh are coached by Tom Webb and Jack Warren. Both are new to Pleasant Hill High this year.

According to Webb, "If we get by Pacifica we will go undefeated." He feels the team strength is at fullback and sees no weakness.

Led by center Bud Couttes at 185 the starting line averages 170 pounds. This is only some five pounds lighter than the varsity line.

"Big and powerful," are the adjectives Warren uses to describe the starting backfield which consists of Loran Speck at quarterback; Jim Stephenson and Bob Schreeder at halfs; and Larry Foster at fullback.

On the bench the Baby Rams have a second team line almost as big as the first squad. The backs are small but fast.

Ends Bill Weir and Rick Mackin; tackles Chuck Bray and Bill Poach, and guards Jim Hoagland and Harold Thief round out the starting eleven.

Wolves Smash Liberty; Meet Livermore Tonight

Hitting like a tank on the ground and like a jet through the air the San Ramon Wolves impressed with a smashing 40-7 win over Liberty High of Brentwood last Friday night.

The wolves hit for 21 first downs to Liberty's 10 and connected on 8 of 12 passes for 99 yards while rolling up 264 yards on the ground to chalk up a grand total of 40 points.

The Wolves could do no wrong as they scored two touchdowns in the first quarter, posted 7 points in the second and 21 in the third.

STANDOUT for the Wolves was junior fullback Bill Humphrey (170), who showed speed and drive as he ate up yardage and scored two touchdowns, one in the opening quarter on a 13-yard run and another in the third period on a two-yard plunge.

Craig Lundgren scored from eight yards out in the first quarter. Gary Johnson returned a kickoff 85 yards in the second period, while a 20-yard pass from Dick Van Wald to Ken Miller and a 30-yard run by Pete Demos in the third quarter accounted for the six San Ramon touchdowns. Kent Evans kicked the last four conversions.

Brentwood accounted for but 112 yards on the ground, most of it coming in the final quarter when San Ramon reserves had taken over and they completed but one pass in ten tries for 15 yards.

Loran Walker, regular left half, will sit this one out, but will probably be ready for league play.

Livermore is undefeated, having posted an 18-6 win over St. Elizabeth High and then tripped Benicia, 15-0.

Coach Marvin Ashby appears to have the San Ramon grid machine in high gear after dropping a 14-6 decision to Pleasant Hill in the opener and if so, the Cowboys would be in for a rough ride. Game time is 8 p.m.

Hardtop Highlights

By JEAN McGUIRE

The "Monza" style 100 lap race Saturday night at Contra Costa Speedway, may well be termed a huge success.

The stands were packed for the event, as was expected, but the race itself held the undivided attention of the fans 'til the last checkered flag fell.

This was the last, and by far the most interesting of the 100 lappers to be held at Pacheco this year.

AS YOU KNOW, this race was in three segments, two 33 and one 34 lap, with a short interval between each event to allow drivers to make repairs or swap cars if their own were out of commission.

The finest show of the night was easily put on by Santa Rosa's Johnny Franklin. He took the trophy dash and also won the first leg of the Monza under a slight handicap.—He was running with only three wheels!

Franklin came in a very close second to Hugh Purdy in the second race, and would have been far up in the third except for the fact that he was set down (finishing last no matter what his position) for changing a tire on the track while waiting for the tow truck.

I MIGHT ADD this ruling was a little unpopular with the spectators.

Feeling ran so high in fact, that one enraged gentleman "planted" a good one on starter Joe Nault. The irate fan had to be carried bodily from the stadium by the local gendarmes.

HUGH PURDY, second in point standings, blew the engine of his fast qualifying number 30 in the first segment. Purdy then switched to number 301 and won the second segment.

Wally Baker, BCRA point leader, was third in the first and second portions and won the third. Baker also took the second heat of the evening. He collected enough points during the three races to emerge the winner of the Monza.

Pleasant Hill Mayor, Jack Clayton, could only turn his Number 88 in one direction but still managed to take second in the first heat and third in the trophy dash.

CLAYTON'S CAR developed steering trouble and it was impossible to turn to the right.

Tomorrow's program consists of the usual 25 lap main event. Time trials start at 7, first race at 8:15.

Mrs. Patch Wins Orinda Tourney

Championship in Ladies Play at Orinda Country Club was Mrs. P. E. Patch, who defeated Mrs. W. M. Noble, runnerup, four and three.

Other winners: Mrs. C. L. Rank won the first flight, 1 up, over Mrs. Marshall Steel; Mrs. A. H. Ayres the second flight, two and 1, over Mrs. J. A. Sweet; Mrs. Thomas Nickels, 1 up, over Mrs. H. R. Merriam; Mrs. F. C. Borgnino, 2 and 1, over Mrs. J. B. Downs; Mrs. C. M. Green, 2 and 1, over Mrs. E. S. Maloney.

Winners of the two-day eclectic for defeated players were: Class A, Mrs. P. A. Cooper, 81-14-67; Class B, Mrs. R. T. Hughes, 94-27-67, and consolation round, Mrs. J. L. Sharp, 87-14-73.

Audubons To Walk Through UC Grounds

The regular monthly meeting of the Mt. Diablo Audubon Society was held yesterday in Room 201, Las Lomas High School, Walnut Creek.

The evening program was presented by Mrs. Myla Austin.

Mrs. Austin is a primary teacher in a Concord school who recently attended the nature course given by the National Audubon Society at the camp at Norden in the Sierra.

Sunday is the date set for the monthly field trip. Meeting place and time will be at Sather Gate, the north end Telegraph Avenue in Berkeley, at 9 a.m.

Mrs. Pauline Opler and Paul Opler will be the leaders. The party will walk through the University grounds, looking for birds as they go up Strawberry Canyon to the Botanical Gardens.

This will be about a three hour outing and persons desiring to make a picnic of it will find picnic spots in the gardens.

Contest Looms For EBMUD Directorship

A contest loomed today in the November election for the East Bay Municipal Utility District as Dan Luten, 1097 Creston Road, Berkeley, filed for the post of director of the second ward in opposition to the incumbent.

Luten, a resources and conservation consultant and chemist, was technical adviser to the Natural Resources Section in General MacArthur's civil administration of Japan and is a former member of the University of California faculty.

He is a research chemist with Shell Development Company in Emeryville, a member of the Sierra Club, and treasurer of the EBMUD Citizens' Committee.

He said today:

"The central issue in this election is to persuade EBMUD to save its local watersheds for long range public and recreational needs.

"EBMUD, the largest landholder in the East Bay, has declared its intent to sell such publicly owned lands for private development. Our committee opposes, in particular, EBMUD's proposal to sell the 6500-acre watershed of the San Pablo Reservoir between Orinda and Richmond.

"The sale of this tract, an area as large as the City of Berkeley, has been opposed by the Berkeley City Council, the Oakland Junior Chamber of Commerce and many other civic groups and planning agencies."

...register at appliance stores displaying this sign

There's nothing to buy—nothing to compose. A simple drawing decides who wins the dryers. All you do is fill out an entry blank available at P. G. and E. or dealers handling brands listed below.

GAS DRYERS: Blackstone, Easy, Fowler, Hamilton, Maytag, Norge, O'Keefe & Merritt, Philco-Bendix, RCA-Whirlpool

ELECTRIC DRYERS: ABC, Blackstone, Easy, Fowler, Frigidaire, General Electric, Hamilton, Hotpoint, Kelvinator, Maytag, RCA-Whirlpool, Speed Queen, Westinghouse

Dryers will be delivered with usual warranty... installation at winner's expense. Drawing sponsored by the Northern California Electrical Bureau and the Gas Appliance Society of California.

LIVE BETTER—
gas and electricity are cheap in California

soft and fluffy...fresh and sweet

That's how automatic dryers leave things. And that's one reason babies and clothes dryers go well together. Diapers, towels, sheets, blankets—everything comes out of a dryer feeling so nice and comfortable. (Something we grownups appreciate, too).

Four fashion shows will be presented free Saturday afternoon at Goldman's, Joseph Magnin, Elsie's Sportswear and Country Girl.

SMITHS AND GRODINS will display men's fashions in each of the shows.

Showing maternity clothes in the Joseph Magnin show will be Expectation Shop. Kladezee will present children's clothes; subteen fashions from its Pony Tail Shop in The Country Girl show.

"The shows will each be one-half our long and sceduled 15 minutes apart, so that everyone will be able to take in all or any particular show she cares to," said Mrs. Batesole.

THE GOLDMAN'S SHOW is scheduled from 1:30 to 2 p.m.; Joseph Magnin's from 2:15 to 2:45; Elsie's 3 to 3:30; Country Girl 3:45 to 4:15.

An invitation was extended by Mrs. Batesole to all residents to attend, "one or better still all of the shows."

Cake Hides $400 Worth Of Orders

"A huge birthday cake and giant sheet cake await visitors to the Broadway Birthday Party Friday night 7 to 9 p.m." Sal Blasquez of the Broadway Merchants Association, said yesterday. Coffee will be served.

In inviting residents to the celebration, which will continue through October 18, Blasquez commented that inside certain pieces of cake there will be aluminum foil wrappers containing $1 to $5 merchandise orders on participating Broadway stores.

"There'll be $400 of merchandise orders hidden in some delicious cake from Stinnett's Pastry Shop," said Blasquez in urging a big turnout for the coffee, cake and to hear the famous Guckenheimer Sour-Kraut German Band.

Firemen To Demonstrate Life-Saving Equipment

A fire-fighting demonstration and a window display at Capwell's Broadway Shopping Center, will be features of Fire Prevention Week in Walnut Creek.

John Tague, Capwell's manager said the demonstration will be put on by the Central Fire District next Wednesday noon, October 8, in the store's parking lot. The window display will be on view from Friday, October 3, through October 10.

Assistant Chief Al Streuli said the heavy monitor gun and two fire fighting units will be used in the demonstration.

"The monitor gun, which will throw 1000 gallons of water a minute for more than 200 feet, is used to fight large structural fires," Streuli pointed out. "It's intended for conflagrations, and has seldom been seen in use here."

Directed by Streuli and Captain Wilson Forrest, firemen will lay the two lines required to feed the big gun, and throw the huge stream of water as if they were fighting an actual fire.

The window display will show the figure of a fireman pointing out hazards, including a discarded cigarette and trash.

Here Are Rules, Regulations For 'Bid 'n Buy

"We plan to give away thousands of dollars in merchandise prizes in our Bid 'N Buy Showcase Contest during the Seventh Broadway Birthday Party," said George Webster, chairman, in announcing rules for the affair.

"All that is necessary to win," Webster explained, "is to follow these easy rules."

1. No owner or employee of any Broadway Shopping Center Store may enter the contest.

2. You need not be present to win.

3. In case of tie, a tie-breaking bid will be held to determine the winner of the showcase.

4. The answer has been sealed and placed in a vault of the Crocker-Anglo Bank in Walnut Creek.

5. All that is necessary to win is to list the correct retail sales price of all the items. Do not include sales taxes.

6. The decision of the judges is final.

7. The closest bid to the total retail prices will be declared the winner.

8. You must enter the contest with an official entry blank which is available at all participating stores.

9. The opening of the sealed answer will be Saturday, October 18, 4 p.m., in front of the showcase which is located at Lucky Food Store.

10. Entry Blanks must be deposited at the showcase in front of Lucky Food.

11. The winner will receive all the merchandise on display plus the valuable greenhouse, which is being used as a showcase, as a bonus prize. The price of the greenhouse is not to be included in the total price of all the gifts.

Cool Air and 'Cool' Bargains In B'dway Stores

It's hot outside, but it's so-o-o cool inside all the stores in Broadway Shopping Center!

"Many women have said that they love to browse about Broadway just to pass an afternoon comfortably," remarked Betty—who is an expert at shopping in Broadway Shopping Center.

Come To The 'Sauer Kraut Concert'

The famous Guckenheimer Sour-Kraut German Band will play for the enjoyment of visitors at the Broadway Shopping Center Birthday Party, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

The band will play in front of the Lucky Food Store, Friday night, 7 to 9, October 3.

The band's fame has continually grown for the past 8 years. On national television, they've been seen on the Arline Francis "Home Show" and Will Roger's "Morning Show;" they were televised and heard on radio following Eisenhower's nomination at the 1956 Republican Convention; and around California they've made personal appearances at the Sonoma Wine Festival, Paul Masson Wine Fesival, Lodi Wine Festival and many more.

As "Cookie" Conroy said (their most rotund member), "All these wine festivals! Haven't they got a beer festival?"

Seriously, they've played for many charities and society roundups and have always made a hit in their peculiar way.

And . . . they've been recorded for posterity! Because of the success of their first long playing record, "Oom-Pah-Pah in Hi-Fi" they are now under contract to RCA Victor. "Sour Kraut in Hi-Fi" is their initial RCA album with others in the offing.

College Men Look At New Fall Clothes

Contrary to a popular belief, ranunculus are not for the birds. And if you have failed to plant them because someone told you the birds gobble them up as soon as they sprout, you've missed one of our best early spring flowers.

There are many ways to beat the birds with ranunculus, but none is easier than planting early. Buy the tubers now and get them in as soon as September's hottest weather snaps. For some reason, birds are either not interested in early ranunculus or they are off attending to other business at the time.

WHERE LATER spring bloom is desired, later plantings are necessary. And the California Association of Nurserymen cautions that a battle with our feathered friends is likely to ensue. A "roof" of wire mesh over the planting area will foil them. So will starting the tubers in milk cartons or pots where the young plants can be hardened off in a protected place before planting in the garden. Or you can place meshed baskets—the kind you buy berries in—over the sprouting plants.

When you select ranunculus for planting, remember that the bigger the bulb, the more flowers it produces. The more expensive tubers will give you more flowers per penny than the cheaper ones.

BEFORE PLANTING, soak the dry tubers in water for several hours to soften them. Then plant with the claws down and cover with about one inch of soil. The ranunculus' preference is for loose soil, but they don't insist on it.

The richly colored blooms—they come in practically every good garden shade but blue — can be planted among irises or as part of a bed with winter stock for excellent effect. They also mix well in a border and are very effective when massed by themselves. Once you've grown them, you'll agree that — whatever it takes to foil the birds, the results are worth the effort.

Bid'n Buy Contest Offers Thousands Of Dollars

The Broadway Bid'n Buy Showcase will feature thousands of dollars worth of merchandise and will be the feature attraction of the Broadway Seventh Birthday Party, announced George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

"Participating firms in the birthday celebration will display quality merchandise in the showcase and the person who guesses the most accurate total retail value of all the gifts will be awarded everything in the show case," Webster said.

In reality, the showcase is a $50 greenhouse which was purchased by the Broadway Merchants Association, sponsors of the Bid 'n Buy contest, to give to the winner as a bonus prize.

"All that is necessary to win," Webster pointed out, "is for a person to pick up an entry blank at any of the participating stores, fill out the blank with the estimate of the total retail cost of all items, excluding the showcase itself and return the blank," Webster continued.

The public will learn who the winner is October 18, the last day of the birthday party celebration at 4 p.m.

The sealed answer has been deposited by members of the committee in the vault of the Crocker Anglo Bank in Walnut Creek, said Webster.

Other attractions that Webster noted were free were merry-go round tickets for the children, fashion shows Saturday, free cake and coffee Friday night along with a concert by the famous Guckenheimer Sour-Kraut Band.

Evening Shopping Is Thurs., Friday

Family nights in the Broadway Shopping Center comes twice a week — on Thursdays and Fridays — making Broadway especially popular with folks who cannot find time during the days, according to John Tague, member of the Broadway Merchants Association.

The stores are open until 9, both nights, allowing plenty of time for dinner at home or in one of the restaurants.

RICHARD BETZENDERFER, president of the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce, and Frank A. Marshall, vice-mayor of Walnut Creek, present Carlton Licht, manager of the new Davidson & Licht jewelry store the first prize ticket in the Davidson & licht grand opening prize drawing. The prize won by Mrs. Dorothy A. Gibbert, 10 Garron Court, Walnut Creek, was a $900 platinum and diamond wedding ring. The new Davidson & Licht store at 1285 South Broadway in the Broadway Shopping Center specializes in blue-white diamonds and other jewelry including gold and silver gifts.

Famed OOM-PAH-PAHists Will Highlight Birthday

Come June, RCA Victor Records will unleash upon an unsuspecting world a long-playing record album bearing the succinct title of "Music for Non-Thinkers," and featuring the Guckenheimer Sour Kraut Band, which will play at the Broadway Birthday Party on Friday night, 7 to 9.

The Guckenheimers, nine men strong, are a study in San Francisco "firsts." But unlike the earthquake and the Gold Rush of '49 there isn't the slightest indication from the Guckenheimers that they will pass from the Golden Gate scene.

WRONG THINKERS to the contrary, an unusual number of normally upright citizens have taken the band's quaintly sour Bavarian melodies to heart, and the enthusiasm of these good burghers bids fair to immortalize Fritz Guckenheimer's unique interpretations of German folk music.

Bearing in mind this healthy interest in anti-egghead music, it will be well to note several important facts about the Guckenheimers and their activities.

The whole thing began back in 1948 when Richard Gump, head of the world famed Gump's store in San Francisco, lamented the fact that the celebration of Christmas was considerably marred by the inroads of commercialism. Gump (an artist, author, serious composer, and highly successful businessman) heard vociferous agreement to his lament from several other citizens of Sausalito.

AND IN A surprisingly short time an impromptu German band appeared on street corners throughout the Bay Area. They played a little Wagner, a little Strauss, a little Bach, and a little off-key. What the band lacked in harmonic precision it made up for in enthusiasm. And the bandsmen were as surprised as the San Franciscans to find that everyone from toddlers to greying grandmas bounced to their fractured Teutonic beat.

Thus were the Guckenheimers born.

The band needed a name.

During a meeting that can only loosely be described as a rehearsal session, businessman Gump was inspired to heist the "Guckenheimer" appelation from the label of a nearby whiskey bottle. Gump found an alter ego in the character of Fritz Guckenheimer, kappelmeister extraordinary, and the band was officially launched.

Gump can drop into the personality of Guckenheimer at the drop of a tuba note, and describes the band's efforts as "typical German village band music." And so it is.

There's Nothing Like a Party And Betty's Planning on Going

By BETTY

I'm on my way to a party — the Seventh Birthday Party of the Broadway Shopping Center.

In all your days you've never seen such preparations to make a birthday party a sure success.

I AM PERSONALLY interested in seeing the four fashion shows Saturday afternoon, but the kids, you know how they are about fashion shows, are just dying to see the Guckenheimer Sour-Kraut German Concert Band.

If you don't already know, (land's sakes everybody in town is talking about it) about the fashion shows, let me tell you about it.

There will be four shows, with 15 minutes between each one — so you can take in one or all of them. Each show will be 30-minutes long.

The shows will be at Goldman's Joseph Magnin, Elsie's Sportswear and Country Girl.

SMITH'S AND GRODINS will display men's fashions in each of the shows.

Also showing in the Joseph Magnin show will be Expectation Shop. Kladezee will show children's clothes from the Kladezee Children's Shop and "sub-teen"styles from the Pony Tail Shop in the Country Girl show.

But if it's a real laugh you're after, try the Guckenheimer Band.

They will be playing Friday night while the Broadway Merchants Association serves cake and coffee to all the visitors.

Mrs. Stinnett of Stinnett's Pastry Shop has the most wonderful Birthday cake planned for the event with 35 giant sheet cakes to add to the huge birthday cake itself.

By the way Mrs. Stinnett is baking right into the cake some $400 in merchandise orders good at participating stores.

The orders have all been wrapped up in aluminium foil and many lucky persons are going to get these $1 to $5 orders along with some mighty fine tasting cake and coffee.

I WENT OVER to the Bid 'n Buy Showcase to try my skill at estimating the cost of all those wonderful items in the case.

My husband has been very eager for me to enter since he wants the showcase alone.

THAT MAY SOUND a bit strange, but the showcase is a $350 bonus prize which was purchased by the Broadway Merchants Association and is in reality a GREENHOUSE.

Now you can see why my husband wants it.

On my way to Broadway, I dropped over to Jackson's and picked up one of those Zabutons.

I just love the name and we've already decided to get another. It is one of the most beautiful floor cushions I have ever seen and the colors are just yummy.

WE PICKED THE tangerine, but they also have black, white, turquoise, bronze, and gold.

Capwell's has a special price on photographs for Christmas so now you can have your choice of three photographs of any size or finish at half price.

My husband now has a pair of those lightweight, wash and wear slacks from Smith's. My, they certainly are handsome and stay so nice looking regardless of how long we ride in the car or how much he runs around at the office.

KUSHINS is presenting the adorable litte princess heels by Adores. Perhaps one of the best slogans I have ever heard (and it sure is true) is the one used by Kushins: "Remember, Kushins Always Has Your Size."

As I was walking to Goldman's to look at some wonderful skirts that are all wool, yarn dyed with those new hemline details, I remembered about Sterling's Wishing Well Drawing.

Of course, there is nothing to buy to enter. but just think of winning $500 worth of merchandise that you pick.

ALL YOU DO is go to Sterlings, drop your official entry blank into the wishing well and if your name is drawn you win the $500 worth of merchandise.

There will be drawings on October 8, 15, 22, 29 and November 5. There will be a winner each week, too.

It was just a few days ago that my husband and I went to Grodins to see those Thorobred suits with the extra pair of pants. They are ivy flannel with silk and wool mix. I said to my husband, "Don't forget the extra pants double the wear."

I WAS SO IMPRESSED with the tremendous selection and price range of children's clothes at Penney's. They seem to have everything for the toddler, school age sub-teen and teen-ager.

By the by, have you noticed that the mornings have been very cool of late? Well, I have been a little worried about the children catching cold running around in their bare feet, so I went to Grande's to pick up some warm slippers for them. I'm quite sure that they will be very happy with them, too.

I stopped at Stinnett's Pastries to see if their cake-naming contest had been decided, and got there just before George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association and contest judge, ate the last bite. He'd eaten the whole cake all by himself, it was that good!

George decided that the winning name was one entered by Mrs. Louis Denis, 1102 Juanita Drive, who called it "Bon Chiffon."

She'll get one of Stinnett's famous Cakes-of-the-Week every week for a whole week.

I'd entered the contest myself, of course, and hoped I was going to win. But then, I've got to watch my figure.

Well, it's off to the birthday party . . .

See you later . . .
